MARRIED MEN ARE INCLUDED IN APRIL CALL

Adams county's Selective Service boards will be dipping heavily into the married men category beginning with the May call, a survey of the boards disclosed today.

Local Board No. 2 at Gettysburg plans to send its first contingent of married men with the April call, notices for which have been mailed. A few beneficiaries round out a list made up mostly of 18-year-olds and a few older men.

Board No. 1 at New Oxford has been able to fill its coming quota with 18 to 20-year-old youths and a few older 1-A men and expects to be able to call its May quota from the 18-year-olds with possibly a few married men.

The Gettysburg May call, according to present indications, will be filled with married men. The April call, it was said today, will exhaust the 18-year-olds with not enough youths expected to become 18 during the coming month to fill the May list. While the New Oxford board has reported over 20 registrations of 18-year-olds during February and 15 so far this month, the Gettysburg board had only five 18-year registrations during February and only a few so far in March.

Start Reclassification
The Gettysburg board has already called up a number of married men for local "screening tests" while the New Oxford board expects to start tests of married men in the near future. A few men formerly classified in 4-F and who had been rejected in previous army examinations have also been called up by the local boards.

Reclassification of the men is starting with a larger number of former 3-A men expected to be reclassified into 1-A. A number will be put into deferred classifications, particularly farmers.

The boards are examining men according to their order numbers with the lowest numbers being called first and beginning with the men who registered in the first registration in 1940. The boards are culling their lists for all registrants in the childless, married class in all of the six registrations, except the fourth, which was for men 45 to 65 years of age.

Call Students Soon
The officials made it plain that the childless married class included only men married prior to the start of the war, with men married after that time being inducted as if they were unmarried. Children born on or after September 23, 1942 are not considered as dependents.

Neither of the local boards has started reclassification of men between 38 and 45 years as yet, it was stated, regardless of the categories into which the men fall. It is not clear as yet, they said, whether this group will be called into the army.

A few local high school seniors will be called up for induction after June 1, although they have already reached 18 years of age, it was stated. The youths have received deferments to complete their school year and will be called at that time. The number of such youths is very small, it was stated, and some would have received deferments as farmers.

LENTEN VESPERS
The second in the series of special Lenten vespers will be held at Trinity Evangelical Reformed church, Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock. The sermon will be preached by the Rev. Theodore Woodrow Boltz, of the Church of the Redeemer, Littlestown. The service will be in charge of the Rev. Howard S. Fox and the junior and senior choirs will furnish special music.

IN ARMY SERVICE
Stephen Heyser, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Heyser, Gettysburg R. 5, has been inducted into the Army at Baltimore. It is not known where he has been assigned for his basic training.

SUV MEETING
An important meeting of the local camp of the Sons of Union Veterans will be held Friday at 7:30 p. m. at the GAR rooms on East Middle street, it has been announced by George N. Coshun, post commander. Refreshments will be served after the meeting.

Radio Service, Baker's Battery Service.

OPA Plans Meeting Of All Meat Dealers

The Office of Price Administration, through the district office in Harrisburg, has arranged for a meeting of all meat dealers of Adams county, in the court house, Wednesday, March 24, at 8:00 p. m.

The meeting is expected to last about one and one-half hours, it has been announced by S. C. Price, district information officer of the Harrisburg district office of OPA, and will deal with pork prices, meats and fats. All meat dealers are urged to attend.

CARRIERS NEAR 2 MILLION MARK IN WAR STAMPS

J. Henry Hershey, Cashtown carrier, topped nineteen other boys and a girl in U. S. War Stamp sales to Times' readers from February 27 to

PATRICIA MEYER

March 13, by turning in a record of 9,600 10-cent stamp sales.

The sales period just ended sends Hershey's grand total up to 201,524 stamps to place him in second position with first honors still in the hands of C. Arthur Brame, who has a record of 340,106.

Carriers for The Gettysburg Times have sold 1,768,987 war stamps since the inauguration of the sales. Other high records for the two-week period ending last Saturday included: Walter Trostle, who sold 6,592 stamps; Melvin Sease, 2,511; C. Arthur Brame, 2,087, and Patricia Meyer, 1,423.

The complete record for the 21 carriers during the period ending last Saturday follows:

$216 DONATED TO RED CROSS IN 24 HOURS

Contributions to the Adams county War Relief Fund of the American Red Cross during the past 24 hours totaled $216.30 bringing the grand total to date up to $7,610.09, local officials announced today.

The largest donation made Wednesday was that of the F and T restaurant which contributed all of its receipts for a twelve hour period beginning at 10 o'clock in the morning. Christ Foulas and George Lazos, proprietors, announced today that the gross receipts in that period was $123.30 all of which was given to the Red Cross.

Volunteers as Cashiers
A corps of volunteers acted as cashiers for the Red Cross at the restaurant Wednesday. Included among the group were Mrs. Joseph Rosensteel, Miss Anna McSherry, Miss Rose Stock, Mrs. N. L. Minter, Mrs. William Conover and Mrs. Arthur Phiel. The chairmen in charge of the women cashiers, who were picked from the congregations of St. James Lutheran church and St. Francis Xavier Catholic church, were Mrs. J. Walter Coleman and Mrs. Arthur Phiel who worked under the direction of Mrs. Rasmus S. Saby, chairman of the canteen committee of the Red Cross.

Additional contributors included: Interfaculty Club of Gettysburg college, $20; Women's Service Guild of Christ Lutheran church, $10; John P. Butt, $10; Cashtown Community Fire company, $10 and James Scott Cairns, $5.

It was reported today that the Gettysburg post office has contributed 100 per cent. The post office is among the first organization to announce contributions from every employee.

Gives "What-not"
Persons in the town and county are contributing what they can, the Red Cross heads said today, and every contribution is welcomed. Called "one of the finest contributions we have received" was the donation by an elderly resident of the county who earns his living by making "what-nots" from spoils. He turned in one of the "what-nots" to the Red Cross to be sold. The piece of furniture brought 50 cents at a sale at the production center.

An additional contribution of $4 was received from a woman who prefers to remain anonymous, bringing her contributions to $15.

Here And There News Collected At Random

A long-distance "friendship" by correspondence that started more than ten years ago between an American girl and a French boy has terminated... because the French boy is a prisoner of war in Germany.

When Miss Rachael Withers, now Mrs. C. H. Heldt, North Stratton street, was a student at Shippensburg State Teachers' college, her French instructor arranged to have her pupils correspond with French pupils who were studying English in various schools in France. The Americans would write their letters in French and the French pupils would write theirs in English. It was an interesting and fascinating way to learn the language each was studying.

Miss Withers drew a young Frenchman by the name of Maurice Renon. Renon was studying music.

Three or four times a year letters were exchanged. Miss Withers graduated, became an instructor in French at Biglerville high school and after her marriage to Doctor Heldt she came to Gettysburg to live. Through all those years she continued to correspond with young Renon.

In 1939 Renon wrote that he was being mobilized. Later he wrote her from the Maginot Line, the famous fortified stronghold erected as an im-

East Can Drive For Fun Again—But Not Very Far

Washington, March 18 (AP)—Starting Monday, eastern motorists can drive for fun again, as far as their gasoline will take them—but for the luckless "A" bookholders, at least, that won't be very far.

Dealer pleas for price increases, driver pleas for more coupons and official pleas for revival of car-sharing plans chafed today in the wake of yesterday's Office of Price Administration order cutting the "A" bookholder's weekly ration roughly from about 3 to 1½ gallons and lifting the pleasure driving ban.

The same day the order—applying only to the east coast—is effective, a group of independent retail gasoline dealers from eastern cities is expected to ask OPA for an increase in the price ceiling. A spokesman for the Washington dealers said he planned to call them together, adding that the curtailed ration would trim sales volume farther and force many small dealers out of business unless the margin is increased.

Four-Month Period?
Some speculation was aroused by the wording of the OPA announcement which said merely that the fifth period "A" coupons would be valid for four months instead of two.

If the coupons must last the entire four months—as the order was generally interpreted—it would effect a 50 per cent slash in the "A" bookholder's ration, however, the OPA announcement set no specific expiration date for the coupons, giving rise to conjecture as to whether officials expected the supply situation to ease somewhat within the four months.

However, in the absence of any official statement to that effect, an immediate run on ration boards for supplementary coupons was predicted.

PUBLIC REACTS WELL TO CUT IN INTEREST RATE

A "very favorable reaction," on the part of the public to the recently announced interest reduction on saving and time deposits, was reported Wednesday night by the members of the Adams County Bankers' association at a business meeting held at the Battlefield hotel.

Representatives of every bank present reported that the public "understands that the reduction is in effect a means of helping the war effort in that the banks can purchase more low interest bearing government war bonds and securities now that interest rates have been lowered."

The bankers also reported that savings accounts have increased despite the reduction and that additional sums are being placed by the banks in war bonds.

With nearly every bank in the county having adopted a policy of service charges, the bankers Wednesday evening moved to make more uniform the charges throughout the county. The tendency is for the charges to become more uniform, the bankers decided, while continuing to discuss means of implementing that trend.

Bond Drive Plans
Edmund W. Thomas, Adams county war bond chairman, reported on the $13,000,000 war bond and securities drive to start in April. Of that amount $8,000,000 must be sold to the general public, while the banks will be allowed to take only $5,000,000 of the securities and bonds, he stated.

He urged the banks to do everything possible to sell bonds to their customers and outlined plans for the county committee to be set up in the near future.

The bankers adopted a new method of arranging for meetings in which each bank in turn will be in charge of a monthly meeting.

About 30 members attended the meeting at which President Lloyd W. Kuhn presided.

Property Transfers
Olive A. Young, Franklin township, sold to Lester A. Elliott, Arlington, Virginia, two tracts totaling 301 acres in Franklin township.

John M. and Maude E. Knox, Mendon township, sold to Joseph L. Rosensteel and Lawrence H. Eckert, Jr., both of Gettysburg, an 105-acre fruit farm in Menallen township.

OYSTER SUPPER
The Gettysburg Aerle of Eagles will hold its annual oyster feed starting at 6 p. m. today, it was announced by Secretary James B. Aumen. Fifty gallons of oysters have been purchased by the club for the feed, which is expected to attract more than 500 members. The officers of the club are in charge of the affair.

This Is The Stuff Yankees Are Made Of

Somewhere in New Guinea, Jan. 25 (Delayed)—(AP)—Blinded by blood streaming over his face, dazed by a bullet wound in the scalp and gasping for oxygen, Lieut. Robert Corrie, 23, of Charleston, W. Va., took over the control of the Flying Fortress he was riding when the pilot beside him was killed and landed the plane safely at an advanced Allied field.

Technical Sergt. Milos Patch, 21, of Wall, Pa., said Corrie's quick action saved the lives of the crew.

SCRAP FOR TRIO OF DESTROYERS IS ADAMS GOAL

Scrap for three U. S. destroyers in two months—that's the new quota assigned to Adams county in the March-April salvage campaign that opens formally here next week.

The first collection in Gettysburg and the surrounding rural area will be made Wednesday but in some other county communities collections will begin on Monday. A special "scrap" matinee is announced for Monday afternoon at the Majestic theatre.

The county scrap quota for the Spring Drive is 1,500 tons of scrap. With Navy reports placing the amount of scrap metal required for each new destroyer at 500 tons, Adams county will provide the scrap for three of those warships if the quota is met.

The Spring drive seeks all kinds of scrap material. O. H. Benson, county chairman, said today. All kinds of metal will be gathered, including tin cans, and the community committees will make plans to collect rubber, silk, nylon, aluminum, rags and paper at the same time.

Local Plans
Dr. J. Walter Coleman, Gettysburg salvage chairman, said today that in the initial collection on Wednesday all types of scrap metal will be gathered excepting tin cans. A special can collection will be arranged later.

Vernon Corle will be in charge of the fleet of trucks that will cover every street of the town and the main highways leading from Gettysburg over a radius of five miles from the borough. Gettysburg firemen again have volunteered to help man the trucks and gather the scrap.

Farmers and townspeople alike were urged today by the county and local chairmen to have their scrap collected and ready when the trucks call next week. The drive will be continued throughout the remainder of this month and April.

Farmers or others who have large quantities of scrap on hand and wish to sell rather than give it away are encouraged to follow that course. "The important thing is to get the scrap moving," Doctor Coleman said.

CHANGES AT P.O. ARE ANNOUNCED

George L. Bushman, West Middle street, has been advanced from the rank of substitute carrier to the position of regular city carrier, at the Gettysburg postoffice, it was announced today by George P. Black, the assistant postmaster.

He takes the position made vacant when Druid Deitch entered the United States Army.

Recently Harmon Furney was made a regular city carrier after serving as a substitute and was assigned to the route formerly carried by the late G. W. Fream, who died a month ago.

Bushman is assigned to mail collection and the delivery of parcel post.

British Start Push Against Axis In South

By WES GALLAGHER

Allied Headquarters in North Africa, March 18 (AP)—United States troops led by Lieut. Gen. George S. Patton, newly named commander of American forces on the Tunisian front, have recaptured Gafsa after a 30-mile drive and pressed on beyond that rail city and air base toward the Gabes bottleneck, it was announced today.

Only a few hours were required for reoccupation of the town which had been abandoned by Allied troops in the face of Field Marshal Erwin Rommel's abortive mid-February offensive.

Chase Fleeing Germans

A communique said that little opposition was encountered and U. S. patrols, assisted by mobile French units and guarded by Allied aerial squadrons, drove after the retreating Germans into the area of El Guetar, 12 miles to the southeast.

Gafsa lies 85 miles northwest of Gabes, a major supply port for Marshal Rommel's forces in the Mareth line zone, and restores the Allied threat to his rear.

The bulletin declared that Allied positions were improved in the northern sector of the Mareth line front "both during the night of March 16/17 and during yesterday."

(This was the first authoritative Allied statement which would tend to bear out German radio reports that Gen. Sir Bernard Montgomery's Eighth army had begun a four-division push against Marshal Erwin Rommel's lines in that region.)

Patrols Are Active

"In the south our patrols were active, inflicting losses on the enemy," the communique said.

Allied forces were credited with taking some prisoners.

The Axis garrison of Gafsa was reported withdrawing southeastward and Allied patrols followed up towards El Guetar, 12 miles away on a road that leads to the port of Gabes and the Mareth line. Mobile French detachments cooperated.

"Many mines and booby traps have been laid to hamper our advance," the bulletin said.

The fleeing Germans were bombed and shot up by Allied airmen. Fighters, in low-level attacks, destroyed a number of trucks and silenced Axis gun positions.

"In northern Tunisia west of Sedjenane, as a result of heavy attacks, the enemy made local gains which were later restored by counterattacks," the communique said. "Fighting continues."

Allied fighters carried out offensive sweeps in this region during which one Axis fighter was destroyed.

Funeral Held For Miss Flora Ogden

Funeral services for Miss Flora I. Ogden, who died Sunday morning at her home on Baltimore street, were held Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the Deatrick brothers' funeral home, Baltimore street, with the Rev. Howard S. Fox, pastor of Trinity Evangelical Reformed church, officiating. Interment was made in Evergreen cemetery.

The pallbearers were George T. Raffensperger, Charles Ogden, James Strickhouser, Samuel Rhine, Daniel Stallsmith and Luther Roehner.

HOSPITAL REPORT
John Rudisill, 335 York street; Mrs. Glenn Slaybaugh, Biglerville R. 3; Carmen Lightcap, Gettysburg college; George Eberly, Gettysburg R. 4; Mrs. Ira Fair, Fairfield, and Ray Knouse, Gettysburg R. 3, have been admitted as patients to the Warner hospital. Those discharged were Mrs. John J. Cassatt and infant daughter, Jane Frances, Gettysburg R. 1, and Mrs. Marlin Showers and infant son, Wayne Courtney, Aspers.

R. C. SHIPMENT
The production committee of the Red Cross today shipped 100 knitted garments to be used by civilian war sufferers. The shipment included 25 women's sweaters, 25 children's suits, 15 women's cardigans, 20 children's sweaters and 15 men's sweaters. The shipment was made under the direction of the co-chairmen of the production committee, Mrs. M. D. DeTar and Mrs. Keith Berger.

TO CONFER HERE ON FARM LABOR

The United States Department of Agriculture War Board of Adams county and the United States Employment Service of the War Manpower Commission, are sponsoring a meeting in the court house Friday, for the purpose of discussing labor problems of the farmer and the canner for the coming year.

"The necessity for increased food production as requested by the United States Department of Agriculture is recognized and appreciated in the local area. In an effort to aid the farmer and canner in doing the job as requested of him, this meeting is felt to be most timely and important," H. F. Snyder, county War Board chairman, said.

"In realization of the importance of this meeting the sponsors have invited civic organizations, veterans' organizations, Civilian Defense Corps, school superintendents and principals, canners, farmers, orchardists, Womens' clubs, and other interested groups," he added.

The meeting will begin at 8:00 a. m.

HEARING TODAY

A hearing will be held this afternoon before Justice of the Peace John Basehore on a charge of being drunk and disorderly brought against Fred G. Gregory, no address. Gregory was arrested Tuesday by Borough Officer Charles W. Culp, Jr., and has been confined to jail since his arrest.

NEED PERMITS
NEXT MONTH TO BUTCHER CATTLE

It will be necessary for all livestock slaughterers, and dealers in livestock in Adams county to have a permit to operate after March 31, according to H. F. Snyder, chairman of the Adams County USDA War Board. These permits will be issued to all persons who slaughter meat to sell, including farmers, butchers, and meat packers; also to livestock dealers by the county USDA war board in all areas, except six Pennsylvania cities, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Reading, Allentown, Harrisburg and Erie.

This is the result of an order recently issued by Secretary Wickard which aims to prevent black market operations in meat. County war boards having been given the responsibility of administering the programs, are setting up plans as rapidly as possible, Mr. Snyder announced.

Must Have Permit

Three parts of the order require:

1. All livestock slaughterers, including farmers who slaughter for sale, to obtain an operating permit, and to aid in enforcement by stamping each wholesale cut of meat with the permit number;

2. All livestock dealers to obtain a permit to buy and sell livestock, and to keep a record of their operations (farmers are required only to keep a record of all purchases or sales of livestock);

3. Slaughterers operating under Federal inspection to set aside for war purposes, designated percentages of their production.

"Local slaughterers," it is explained, include all persons who in 1941 slaughtered livestock with a total live weight of over 300,000 pounds and who are not registered as "quota slaughterers" under Meat Restriction Order No. 1.

"Butchers" include all persons, other than farm slaughterers, who in 1941 slaughtered livestock with a total live weight up to 300,000 pounds.

"Farm slaughterers" include all resident farm operators who in 1941 delivered meat from the slaughter of livestock having a total live weight up to 10,000 pounds.

Home Consumption

Farmers who kill livestock for home consumption exclusively are not required to have a permit.

Under the provisions of the order, each person engaged in the handling of livestock as a dealer or as an agent is required to have a permit. The term "agent" as used in the order includes persons operating auction markets who sell livestock for others on a commission basis.

Collect Ration Points

It is emphasized that beginning April 1, each wholesale cut of meat must be identified. The identification shall be the permit number assigned to the local slaughterer, butcher, or farm slaughterer, or the established number assigned him under federal, state, county or city inspection requirements. The identification must be plain and conspicuous. It may be stamped or stenciled on the meat with acceptable violet branding fluid, or marked thereon with a pencil approved for Koshier marking. In the case of meat sold by a farmer directly to a consumer, the meat will be properly identified if it carries a tag bearing the permit number.

Ration points shall be collected by each local slaughterer, butcher, or farm slaughterer for all meat sold or transferred by him after meat rationing goes into effect, and he will be required to make necessary reports of meat sold or transferred.

Pittsburgh Strike
Ties Up Builders

Pittsburgh, March 18 (AP)—A strike of AFL General Laborers union members Wednesday forced local Builders' Supply industry to curtail deliveries.

Ray W. Warren, a spokesman for the industry, said deliveries of ready-mixed concrete and sand and gravel to war plants and others would be affected by the unionists' failure to load trucks.

Warren said the industry agreed to a wage increase of 5 1/2 cents an hour last October, that the local wage and hour division was petitioned to approve it December 9 and that the matter now rests with the Philadelphia office.

Police Guarding
Mickey Rooney

Hollywood, March 18 (AP)—Police said they were guarding Mickey Rooney at an undisclosed place Wednesday, after his father told detectives he had received, by telephone, a threat against the 21-year-old actor's life.

But Mickey's mother, Mrs. Nell Pankey, and a studio spokesman said they were inclined to believe the calls came from a crank or a prankster, and were of no consequence.

Brumbach, pastor of Christ Reformed church, near Littlestown, officiating. Interment in the Christ church cemetery. Friends may call at the Little funeral home Friday evening from 7 to 9 o'clock.

CONFER ON CONTRACTS
FOR 450,000 MINERS

New York, March 18 (AP)—Spokesmen for the Appalachian Bituminous Mine Operators and representatives of the United Mine Workers continued to meet behind closed doors today, seeking contract agreements involving 450,000 miners.

There was no indication at the conclusion of separate sub-committee sessions of the northern and southern field groups yesterday that there was imminent agreement on the UMW's demands, which include a basic $2-a-day wage increase.

UMW President John L. Lewis and various union district leaders have declared that unless a new contract is negotiated upon the expiration of the present one March 31 the miners will stop work. The operators have rejected all of the union's major demands.

Governor Edward Martin told the gathering that the part Americans of Irish descent have played in United States history is a "brilliant chapter of progress." He commended "their swift march from artisans, track laborers and mine workers to judges, generals, leaders in industry and men of political power."

The attorney general proposed a toast to Irish-American heroes, mentioning specifically Capt. Colin P. Kelly, Jr., Corporal Philip N. Murphy, Sergeant John D. Sullivan, Lieut. Commander Edward H. O'Hare, Lieut. Commander Robert B. Kelly, Rear Admiral Daniel J. Callaghan and the five Sullivan brothers from Waterloo, Iowa.

PRIEST KILLED AT ISLAND MISSION POST

Mercer, Pa., March 18 (AP)—The Rev. Thomas N. Rocks, 37, a Catholic priest on duty with a Jesuit mission at Mindanao in the Philippines, was killed last October, according to word received here by his sister, Miss Ellen Rocks, local high school teacher.

The message came from the Rev. William Masterson, a classmate of Father Rocks at Woodstock college, Miss Rocks said.

Father Rocks, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Rocks of New Castle, was a graduate of New Castle high school and Holy Ghost college at Worcester, Mass. Two brothers, Hugh, of Waynesboro, and Edward, now in the Army, also survive.

MALICKSON FREE ON BAIL FOR APPEAL

Philadelphia, March 18 (AP)—Louis L. Malickson, named by the government as a leader of a $1,000,000 automobile tire black market, is free on $5,000 bail today pending a decision on his appeal for a new trial.

Malickson was convicted by a federal court jury yesterday of conspiracy to violate OPA regulations. He moved for a new trial immediately and United States District Judge J. Cullen Ganey reserved decision.

The sentencing of William B. Hartenstine, of Pottstown, a co-defendant who pleaded no defense, was deferred pending action on Malickson's motion.

JOINT SESSION

A joint meeting of the Adams County War Board and Farm Labor committee will be held Friday at 8 p. m. in the court house, according to an announcement by H. F. Snyder, chairman of the War board.

U-BOAT PACKS
LAUNCH ATTACK
IN N. ATLANTIC

Washington, March 18 (AP)—Running battles between submarine packs and convoy ships indicated today that Germany has launched her expected mass U-boat campaign against Allied shipping in the north Atlantic.

From both sides of the ocean came reports of furious clashes with these results:

1. At least three U-boats were sunk and many others probably damaged by Allied escort vessels and the RAF during a 72-hour battle last month. The British admiralty's announcement, made in London, said the convoy "did not escape without loss" but gave no details in this connection.

2. The Coast Guard cutter Campbell rammed, shelled and sank one enemy submarine and depth-bombed five others in a furious fight with an undersea wolf pack about three weeks ago. The Navy said the Campbell was damaged but she reached port with the aid of other vessels.

CHASED FOUR SUBS

News of the battles, which apparently were separate actions, came 24 hours after a joint announcement by London, Ottawa and Washington that a master plan had been worked out to combat U-boat warfare.

The Campbell's feat was the most dramatic account of anti-submarine warfare yet released by the Navy.

The 2,000-ton Campbell drove four submarines below the surface by running full tilt at them and helped a corvette engage another U-boat, with inconclusive results, before she sighted her sixth target.

"COLLISION COURSE"

"Steering a collision course for the Nazi sub," the Navy related, "the cutter bore down upon it and continued on its bath until the U-boat was so close that the Campbell's gun fire had to be discontinued. The enemy sub was dealt a glancing blow by the cutter."

"As the sub drifted free of the cutter following the collision, the cutter's guns resumed firing, and got off several rounds at point-blank range. The Campbell's officers could see the sub shudder from the impact of the exploding shells."

They then watched the big submarine slowly settle and sink stern first.

REDS REPULSE
TANK ATTACK

BY EDDY GILMORE

Moscow, March 18 (AP)—A titanic tank struggle, with a German air umbrella of Junkers dive bombers met by hurtling Soviet Stormoviks trying to knock out the German armor, was being waged today in the northern Donets river valley, but the Russians reported their lines refused to give before the masses of tanks hurled against them.

Far northwest of Kharkov, in the area west of Sevsk, and along a battle line east of Kharkov and extending down into the Donets basin the Germans were said to be concentrating their reserves and tanks against narrow sectors, striving violently to break through toward cities and towns still held by the Russians.

On the northwestern front Marshal Timoshenko's men continued their offensive directed at Staraya Russa, Soviet advices said.

EAR TROUBLE KEEPS
MAX ROSENBLUM OUT

Los Angeles, March 18 (AP)—Max Rosenblum's perfect right ear, not his cauliflowered left one, is keeping the boxer-actor-night club operator out of the Army.

Military medics said the eardrum was perforated, and he was classified 4-F yesterday. Maxie said he'd see if he could get it fixed—and try again.

He wants to be an Army physical instructor.

STEEL EARNINGS DROP

Pittsburgh, March 18 (AP)—The Pittsburgh Steel company today reported net earnings of $2,488,074 for 1942, equal to $3.19 per common share, compared with $3.169,597, or $4.53 a common share in 1941. Taxes increased from $4,946,000 a year ago to $7,263,000.

Upper Communities

Mr. and Mrs. John R. Fidler, Biglerville, visited their nephew, William Warren, a patient at the Polyclinic hospital, Harrisburg, Wednesday evening.

Tin cans will be collected in Biglerville from 1 to 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon. Only cans which are clean and which are pressed flat are desired. Residents are requested to place the cans in paper cartons or bags on the curb in front of their homes. Boy Scouts will make the collections in two trucks. Persons in rural areas having cans which they wish to dispose of are requested to leave them at Biglerville stores where salvage barrels are being maintained. Silk and nylon stockings will be collected from the Biglerville stores at the same time.

The members of the Willing Workers class of Bethlehem Lutheran Sunday School, Bendersville, cleared $60 with refreshment stands which they operated at the W. E. Brough and Francis Culp sales. The proceeds have been turned over to the Red Cross. Members who assisted with the stands included Mrs. Harry Lerew, Mrs. Mervin Showers, Mrs. Ryland Garretson, Mrs. Cecil R. Snyder, Miss Alvie Starner, Miss Dorothy Routson, Mrs. Wendell Brough and Mrs. George Schriver. Mr. Showers and Mr. Schriver also helped with the projects.

Mrs. Vincent Hawbecker and Mrs. Donald Bosserman, of Biglerville, visited in Chambersburg today.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Carey, of Biglerville, were visitors in York, Wednesday.

Mrs. C. H. Musselman, Mrs. L. Musselman Arnold, Miss Nancy Arnold and Lester Musselman, of Biglerville, spent the day in Harrisburg.

Miss Edna Walter entertained the members of the Friendship class of Trinity-Bender's Evangelical Reformed Sunday School Tuesday evening at her home in Biglerville.

Mrs. Allen S. Stauffer entertained the Bridgettes Wednesday evening at her home in Biglerville. The club will meet next week with Mrs. J. Willis Beidler.

The Ladies' Bible class of Bethlehem Lutheran Sunday school, Bendersville, met recently at the home of Mrs. Charles Weaver with 19 members present. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Harvey Quigle.

Donald Hollabaugh, ten-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Hollabaugh, of Biglerville, who is a patient at the Warner hospital with a streptococcal infection of the throat, is reported to be getting along in a satisfactory manner.

ARENDTSTVILLE

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Allison, Baltimore, spent Tuesday with friends in town.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Warner and son, Billy, of Biglerville, accompanied Miss Gladys Warner to the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Warner, Chambersburg, where they spent the week-end.

Mrs. La Rue Deardorff moved to her new home in Hanover today. Mr. and Mrs. John Raffensperger are moving into the house vacated by Mrs. Deardorff.

Dr. S. K. Piercy, of Allentown, who is visiting his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lott, near Brysonia, will be the guest minister at the Gettysburg Presbyterian church on Sunday morning.

pregnable barrier against possible German invasion.

Early in 1940 the letters from Renon ceased. The Germans did invade France, circled the Maginot line and captured thousands of French soldiers.

The last letter Mrs. Heldt received from Renon told of his capture and imprisonment. His letter follows:

"Dear Rachael: There is about two years you have not received a letter from me, and about the same time I have no news from you. During the war, I was a Second Lieutenant, on the 20th of June 1940, I was wounded at the neck and throat; a projectile penetrated under my left ear, went through my neck and went out between 2 vertebrae without wounding or wounding the spine; fortunately, it was miraculous.

"I lost a great deal of blood, but I cured rather quickly. Sometimes I feel the effects of this wound.

"It will be soon 2 years I am prisoner of war. I hope you are in good health, also your husband, your child or perhaps children (since 2 years I have no news) and also your sister who wrote to my younger brother who plays at the Opera and at the Academy of Music.

"Here, in captivity, I go on playing a little cello and studying medicine. I learn also German. I hope the war will end and soon the peace reign.

"Here we have a sort of French University and some Professors of the Great University of Koenigsberg come and made lectures. I think by the American Red Cross (Y.M.C.A.) I can receive parcels (tobacco, cigarettes, books, food). I shall be very happy to have soon news of yourself. I am going to write another letter for you.

"Receive all my wishes for yourself and your family. Very sincerely, your little friend of France Maurice Renon.

"I enclose a snapshot, you can see myself (in the circle). I hope you will receive rather quickly this letter with the photograph enclosed. Maurice Renon."

Mrs. Heldt says she recognizes the change in style of Renon's letter. She believes that he must have written it under a strain or pressure . . . that it is not written in his customary free and easy style. As for his studying medicine at the camp . . . she merely grins and says . . . "maybe."

KANSAS TEST FAVORS
STATE UNION CONTROL

Topeka, Kas., March 18 (AP)—Kansas, the nation's testing ground for social revolution, has given her wary blessing to state regulation of labor unions.

The House of Representatives Tuesday night approved for passage a measure to require:

Licensing of labor-union agents; financial reports by unions; reports of fees, dues and assessments of members; and reports of salaries paid union officials.

It would prohibit sit-down strikes and jurisdictional disputes. The farm-dominated House votes on final passage of the bill today, and the Senate must concur in several House amendments if it is to become law.

Roman Catholic High Of Philadelphia Meets Delone At McSherrystown Friday

EAST CATHOLIC CAGE TITLE AT STAKE IN GAME

Adams county basketball fans will be treated to another classic game Friday evening when "Jake" Dracha's Delone Catholic high dribblers meet the powerful Roman Catholic high cagers of Philadelphia on the McSherrystown court at 9 o'clock.

The game was listed for the late hour due to church services being held this week. Doors are expected to be thrown open at 8 o'clock. Admission prices will be 50 and 25c.

Delone captured the Harrisburg Diocese championship last week by defeating Lebanon Catholic high after being chosen as a Class A representative of this diocese. Delone is actually a Class B school on the basis of student enrollment but its excellent court record gained it the invitation to participate in the Class A playoffs for the diocesan championship of Pennsylvania.

In defeating St. Mary's of Wilkes-Barre in a one-sided game Tuesday night the Squires earned the right to meet Roman Catholic, Philadelphia diocese titlists, for the Eastern championship. Winner of Friday's game will represent the East in the championship game with the Western champion next week.

Out of Class
Coach Dracha's outfit is stretching far out of its class in engaging Roman Catholic high. The Philadelphia school has an enrollment of about 3,000 students as compared to some 300 at the Adams county school.

The Philadelphia quintet dropped six straight games by close margins early in the season but then started a winning streak which has now reached 16 and at present is regarded as one of the best schoolboy outfits in the state.

It was revealed today by Coach Dracha that Delone turned down an invitation to participate in the tournament at Williamsport in order to take part in the state-wide championship games.

Two teams entered in the Williamsport tournament, St. Mary's of Wilkes-Barre, and Lebanon Catholic, were defeated by Delone during the season.

SEWELL IS MAN WITHOUT A TEAM

Cape Girardeau, Mo., March 18 (AP)—Luke Sewell of the St. Louis Browns is a manager virtually without a team.

Although the Browns' reserve list of 36 players was the largest in the American league, only 19 have reported for spring training so far.

And, as Sewell said, "You can't get a team in shape when your players are scattered all over the country."

Contract trouble isn't the chief reason for absenteeism. Third Baseman Harold Clift, for example, is still at Selah, Washington, trying to find someone to care for 175 head of cattle on his ranch. Pitcher Paul Dean is helping finish some chores at Holdenville, Arkansas.

Young Bill Seimoth, promising rookie left hander who won 24 and lost ten games with New Orleans last season, wrote he believed he could get into condition by himself on the west coast. Sewell's reply sizzled on the telegraph wires.

Other Absentees

Seven of the Browns' players still are unsigned, among them Clift, because he doesn't know whether he'll be able to play baseball this year. First Baseman George McQuinn, Pitchers Stan Ferens and Archie McKain, Catcher Frank Hayes, and Infielders Floyd Baker and Don Heffner.

Other absentees, several of them awaiting draft summons, are Pitchers George Caster and Woody Rich, Catcher Dick Ferrell, Second Baseman Don Gutteridge, Rookie Shortstop Bob Dillinger, Utility Infielder Alan Strange, Short Stop Vernon Stephens and First Baseman Chuck Stevens.

SPORT SHORTS

Philadelphia, March 18 (AP)—St. Joseph's high school won the Catholic league swimming title yesterday, beating West Catholic, 48-18.

Philadelphia, March 18 (AP)—Gus Dorazio, Philadelphia heavyweight, has been paired with Giant Willie Thomas for the feature bout on the Cambria boxing program tomorrow night.

Philadelphia, March 18 (AP)—Temple university's baseball squad, preparing for its first game April 8 against the University of Delaware, is facing a pitcher shortage. All four of its 1942 hurlers have been lost, among them Andy Tomasic, credited for seven of the Owls' 11 victories.

Santa Clara Grid Outlook Darkens

Santa Clara, Calif., March 18 (AP)—Unless the situation changes fall football looks hopeless at Santa Clara, Coach L. T. (Buck) Shaw declares.

He cancelled spring practice yesterday and explained the Army has 98 per cent of Santa Clara men in the R. O. T. C.—and they're so busy doing calisthenics they have no time for football.

Spring practice remains on the schedule at other California schools; Stanford's is slated to start April 1 and California's later in the month.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, March 18 (AP)—The National Collegiate AA won't be holding its usual golf and tennis championships this spring, although the track meet probably will go on as usual. . . . The reason, of course, is that by the time these events usually are run off, most colleges will have had their commencements and there won't be many top-flight competitors hanging around. . . . It seems to be the academic speed-up, rather than service calls, that are wrecking the college spring programs and by next fall Prof. Philip O. Badger, the NCAA president, figures sports "will be stabilized on a new basis." . . . Anyway, stabilized or not, it will be new.

MUSCLE JERKS

When the Yankees used the Asbury Park, New Jersey, high school for calisthenics Tuesday, some of the students watched from the bleachers. . . . The muscular maneuvers of the athletes were so funny that some of the kids laughed right out loud and had to be reminded for embarrassing the mighty major leaguers. . . . Maybe Col. Bill Jones, the Army athletic director, was seeking to provide similar entertainment when he suggested that the Dodgers start work in the West Point field house a little earlier so the cadets could see some real expensive ivory on the hoof.

TODAY'S GUEST STAR

Al Wolf, Los Angeles Times: "One very articulate Hollywood boxing fan, who used to scream 'downstairs' when he wanted a pug to shoot for his opponent's midriff, is yelling 'below deck' these days. . . . He's in the Navy now."

ONE-MINUTE SPORTS PAGE

The crack soccer team composed of performers in the Ringling, Barnum and Bailey circus has been disbanded because of wartime difficulties. . . . Syd Howe, who played hockey for the Red Wings all winter and held down a defense job in Detroit, received a watch from his fellow tool and die makers the other night in recognition of his performances on the ice. . . . Leona Hertz, daughter of the noted Chicago race boss owner, is working in the publicity business in New York. . . . The New York university track team, first to win both the intercollegiate 4A and the AAU indoor championships, is slated to visit Red Cross headquarters to make a mass blood donation Saturday. . . . Jockey Eddie De Camillis, out of action because of injuries, has bought a hotel at Havre de Grace, Maryland—where he won't be bothered by racing fans for some time.

SPRING BRAINING

With five major league clubs and three American association teams training in Indiana this spring, Sports Editor Tom Stephenson of the Elkhart (Ind.) Daily Truth suggests that the "grapefruit league" should be re-named the "limestone circuit." . . . That doesn't include New England granite, New Jersey sand or even plain Mississippi mud. . . . But it's a cinch a lot of the pampered veterans will find it rocky going this spring.

SERVICE DEPT.

Steve Stavers, former Columbia swimmer, has been promoted to captain in the Marines and sent to Camp Pendleton, California, as instructor in individual combat. He reports it was more than a trifle embarrassing when he got a bayonet slash over the eye recently and had to sport a bandage that proved the chief instructor was something less than perfect. . . . Two of his students (both good) are Lieuts. Frank Reagan, ex-Penn and Giants footballer, and William Rutledge, former Rhode Island State basketball player. . . . Iowa Pre-Flight school coaches thought they had some record breakers when Cadet Bob Schwigel was timed in 6.7 for the 60-yard low hurdles and Webb Douglas in 5.8 for the 60-yard dash. . . . Then they re-measured the course and found it was only 53 yards.

Fights Last Night

(By The Associated Press)
New Orleans—Bobby Ruffin, 137, New York, knocked out Bobby McIntyre, 134, Detroit (47).
Elizabeth, N. J.—Buddy Farrell, 151½, Newark, outpointed Marvin Bryant, 155½, Dallas, Texas (6).

BOEHNER PACES HIGH SCORERS ON 133 POINTS

Bud Boehner, Gettysburg high center, who proved to be one of the most consistent performers in the playoff games, carried off the high individual scoring honors for the season records reveal today.

Boehner landed 53 goals, made good on 27 of 51 foul shots for a total of 133 points in 16 games. Captain Ross Sachs and Bobby March were close on the heels of the Maroon center with identical totals of 124 points. Each tabbed 59 goals and each looped 24 fouls. Sachs was granted 34 free tosses and March but one more.

The Maroons, who won the Southern Pennsylvania league and District 3 championships for the third successive year, compiled a record of 14 wins and but two setbacks. The reverses were by Delone Catholic, 31-29, and by Hazleton, 24-21.

Coach George Forney's clan scored a total of 618 points on 253 goals and 112 foul conversions in 183 chances. The team averaged 38.6 points per game as against but 23.3 for the opponents who amassed 373 points.

The individual scoring records follow:

	Games	FG	F	Pts.
Boehner	16	53	27-51	133
Sachs	16	50	24-34	124
March	16	50	24-35	124

Opponents Listed In Catholic Race

Williamsport, Pa., March 18 (AP)—Three East-West games and one sectional contest were bracketed today for the opening round of the 7th annual state Catholic high school basketball tournament Friday night.

The draw pits Lebanon against Oil City St. Joseph in the first of four opening round games. Pittsburgh North Catholic meets Scranton St. Ann's in the second game of the evening, West Philadelphia Catholic is matched with St. Mary's, Pa. Central Catholic, and Wilkes-Barre St. Mary's engages St. Joseph's of Williamsport.

Survivors meet in semi-finals Saturday afternoon, with the finals Saturday night.

Lebanon, Scranton and Philadelphia represent the east in the inter-sectional games against Oil City, Pittsburgh and St. Mary's, while Wilkes-Barre and Williamsport, both of the Scranton diocese, present an all east windup to the first round of play.

GIANTS INDICATE CHANGING TIMES

Lakewood, N. J., March 18 (AP)—The tipoff on how times have changed in baseball is the way the New York Giants are stalling along in spring training without a first baseman.

Manager Mel Ott acknowledged today he is just marking time waiting till Johnny Mize reports for his physical examination for induction next week before he makes a move about filling what looms as the biggest void in his lineup.

Ott's first reaction was to assign Outfielder Herbert (Babe) Barna to the initial sack. Barna, a big man but fast, played first base at West Virginia university and came up to the Philadelphia Athletics several years ago at that position. But since then he has put in an extensive minor league career in the outfield.

It has taken only two outdoor workouts here to convince Ott that Barna is not a Big League first baseman. Now the manager intends to give a trial at first to Utility Infielder Joe Orenego, who reports this week-end.

"He's had only a very little experience at first," Ott said. "But he's an infielder and he ought to catch on more quickly. He's played every other spot in the infield. After the 24th, when Mize gets his physical examination for induction, we'll know where we stand."

Chicago Relays To Draw Many Stars

Chicago, March 18 (AP)—The annual Chicago relays Saturday night will glitter with champions—23 of them.

Five are world record holders: Cornelius Warmerdam, pole vaulter; Greg Rice, two miler; Herb Thompson, sprinter, and Bob Wright and Charlie Hald, hurdlers.

The others include seven National

Henry Armstrong's Eyesight Restored

Philadelphia, March 18 (AP)—Two years ago Hammerin' Henry Armstrong, former triple boxing champion, quit the ring because of eye trouble—but today his vision is termed perfect.

Armstrong, who meets Al Tribuani here Monday in his first eastern comeback fight, was examined yesterday by Dr. Ralph Lanciano at the request of the Pennsylvania State Athletic commission. Said Lanciano:

"With 20-20 vision Armstrong is qualified to pass Air Corps requirements."

Training Camp Briefs

(By The Associated Press)

Hershey, Pa., March 18 (AP)—Johnny Allen, the pitcher the Phils got from Brooklyn in the deal for Rube Melton, is a holdout.

"I haven't heard from him since he returned his contract marked unsatisfactory," Manager Bucky Harris said. "Under the circumstances I guess he could be classed as a holdout."

Muncie, Ind.—The Pittsburgh Pirates arrived in camp today and were to be hustled into their first workout later in the day. Pitcher Max Butcher conferred with President Bill Benswanger just before the squad left Pittsburgh yesterday but Benswanger said the two failed to agree on terms.

St. Louis, Ill.—Finding his St. Louis Cardinals lagging toward the end of yesterday's one long workout, Manager Billy Southworth ordered two shorter sessions effective today, broken by a field house luncheon.

"It is my belief the players will go more at top speed all the way if they have two short practices instead of one long one," the pilot explained.

Lafayette, Ind.—The Cleveland Indians held a brisk workout in the Purdue university field house yesterday.

Russ Peters was at first base, Ray Mack at second, Ken Keltner at third and Lou Boudreau at short. Otto Denning, heir apparent to the first base job left vacant by Les Fleming, missed practice because of a severe cold.

There were only three other absentees—Jeff Heath, a holdout; Roy Cullenbine, whose wife is ill, and Chubby Dean, whose tardiness is unexplained.

Evansville, Ind.—Add signs of the times: Two women are covering the training camp of the Detroit Tigers. They are Miss Haille Lemmert, a writer, and Miss Julia Neville, a photographer, both representing an Evansville paper. They arrived yesterday in time to see Rookie Joe Hoover belt the camp's first homer.

Bloomington, Ind.—Skipper Jimmy Wilson of the Chicago Cubs, who taught Bucky Walters of the Cincinnati Reds how to pitch, sent him an entry blank for the high hurdle event at the Chicago track meet next Saturday. Bucky, who landed on the crumpled list when he tried the hurdles here Monday, filed the blank in a wastebasket.

Bear Mountain, N. Y.—Curtis Davis has the doubtful honor of being the first Major leaguer to break a bone this year. The Brooklyn Dodger pitcher suffered a fractured left thumb when struck by the ball during an infield workout at West Point fieldhouse yesterday. He will be able to continue light drills.

Asbury Park, N. J.—"Fireman" Johnny Murphy seems all set for a big year as relief man for the Yankees. Treatments during the winter eased the misery in his right foot, and yesterday he gave his pitching arm a tentative workout, the results of which filled him with optimism.

Lakewood, N. J.—Who said this spring training in the north was tough, anyway? The New York Giants are saying they never played on such good spring turf as their field here, and yesterday he gave his pitching arm a tentative workout, the results of which filled him with optimism.

Medford, Mass.—The next time the Boston Red Sox go through calisthenics, they want Joe Cronin, who is plenty overweight, to be the leader.

A sad mistake was made yesterday when Chief Petty Officer Harold Knight, who drills the Tufts College Naval Reservists, was invited to lead the boys in the bends.

He gave them the old Navy routine, and even Tony Lupien, who served as a physical instructor at Harvard all winter, had trouble keeping up with him.

A.A.U. title holders, seven central collegiate champions and four from the Western conference.

HART AWARDED SPORT TROPHY AT GETTYSBURG

Alfred "Al" Hart, of Elkins Park, Middle Atlantic wrestling champion of the 155-pound class, blocking back of the Gettysburg College Bulldogs and a member of the track team for two years, was awarded the Beachem Memorial trophy for 1943 at Gettysburg college, C. E. Bil-heimer, director of athletics at the college, announced at the 7th annual athletes night, Wednesday evening.

"AL" HART

"The award is made to Hart, unanimous choice of the committee, because he was most outstanding in athletics, scholarship and Christian influence on the campus," Mr. Bilheimer said.

Mr. Bilheimer paid tribute to the memory of Charles Beachem, college alumni secretary before his death and a football star during his collegiate days here. He said that the late Mr. Beachem represented the ideals of true sportsmanship.

Show Grid Movies

Because of the emergency of war Hart's trophy will be given him at a later date. His name will be inscribed on a bronze panel on the Beachem plaque in the SCA building.

In accepting the award Hart said: "I feel greatly honored in being selected for this honor. I hope that I can live up to the meaning of the war. I shall always remember Gettysburg for the four happiest years of my life. It has been a pleasure to play for men like Coaches Bream and Beeson."

Other speakers on the program were Dr. Henry W. A. Hanson, Coach Henry T. Bream and Lt. J. F. Green, Professor Lester Johnson was toastmaster.

Moving pictures of highlights of the 1942 football season were shown and refreshments served following the meeting.

Blackhawk Goalie Missing In Action

Chicago, March 18 (AP)—Sammy Lo Presti, former Chicago Blackhawk goalie, was on the Navy's list of missing today—the first such casualty believed to have been suffered among the country's nationally

... Buses Will Serve You Better
More than ever in these days of gas-rationing, Greyhound service to nearby communities is of importance to you. Well-timed schedules make it convenient for you to take short trips—regular or occasional—by motor-coach. If you'll take such trips on mid-week days and at less crowded hours, you'll be helping make the best use of wartime transportation.

Golfers To Study Plans For Wartime

Pittsburgh, March 18 (AP)—The Western Pennsylvania Golf association will induct officers and seek some definite conclusions on how to maintain the sport during wartime at its annual meeting here tonight.

Representatives from the association's 42 clubs will discuss the transportation problem, a possible tournament schedule of war benefit nature, membership problems and girl caddies. I. W. (Pip) Danforth of Fox Chapel and Oakmont will be inducted as President to succeed Jay D. Swigart of the field club.

GOLDEN GLOVES FINALS LISTED FOR MARCH 31

New York, March 18 (AP)—Eight aggressive young mittmen, having taken care of everything in their own precinct, turned their eyes westward to Chicago today where March 31 they will meet the survivors of the western division of the Golden Glove championships in the annual inter-city bouts.

The eight, representing five cities and including four service men, battled their way to eastern division championships in the finals at Madison Square Garden last night as the Philadelphia contingent walked away with the team title.

The Philadelphia team had six finalists and came up with two individual champions. The New York and Puerto Rico teams also produced two champs.

Service Men Win

Five members of the armed forces were in the finals, and the only one to lose—Max Walters, an Alexandria, Va., sailor—lost to another service man, Sergeant Alf La Breque of Holyoke, Mass., stationed at Indiantown Gap, Pa. La Breque won by a knockout in the third round of the light-heavy finals.

Private Dale Heersche, a soldier from Fort Wayne, Ind., stationed at Newark, N. J., knocked out Bob Phillips of Philadelphia in the first round to win the middleweight crown; Ballesando Carubia, Merchant Marine sailor, knocked out Bill Smith, Philadelphia, in the first round in the welterweight finals, and Ed Ervin, New York university student and an Army reservist, outpointed Bill Gilliam of Newark in the heavyweight finals for the other service victories.

known athletes now in the armed forces.

The Navy did not elaborate further regarding the 200 pound, 26 year old hockey player from Eveleth, Minn., who stopped 80 of 83 shots in a game at Boston for a National hockey league record. But where his duties then as a goal tender were strictly defensive, as a Coast Guardsman he was in charge of a gun crew on a Merchant Marine ship according to recent word here.

STUDENTS LOSE STRIKE FOR CUTS TO GO TO GAME

Washington, Pa. March 18 (AP)—Washington and Jefferson college students returned to classes today with a warning from President Ralph C. Hutchison that any "further evidence" of a strike they held yesterday for "unlimited cuts" would result in withdrawal of their team from the metropolitan basketball tourney in New York.

The W. & J. cagers will meet Creighton university's five tonight in the opening game of the tournament at Madison Square Garden.

The students struck in protest against the faculty's refusal to give them "unlimited cuts" to attend the game. Dean C. J. Pietenpol said the strike seemed to generate spontaneously among the 390 all-male enrollment.

President Hutchison came here by plane from Harrisburg, where he was carrying out duties as director of the State Council of Defense, and declared last night in a statement:

"All in Service"

"Regardless of whether the faculty gave adequate consideration to the student petition for excused cuts there is still in time of national emergency no slightest justification for athletic holidays or student absenteeism. In one sense or another we are all in military service."

Pietenpol said two-thirds of the student body returned to classes yesterday afternoon after the faculty explained it did not feel it would be patriotic, in view of the government restrictions on travel, to encourage a wholesale migration to New York.

Hutchison said in the event of "further evidence of strike, the basketball team will be brought back to Washington immediately, games forfeited and proper action taken against any student absenting himself from classes."

Callura, Wilson Will Clash Tonight

Boston, March 18 (AP)—After holding the NBA version of the featherweight championship for two months to the day, with very slight profit to himself, Jackie Callura, of Hamilton, Ontario, will give his predecessor, Jackie Wilson, of Pittsburgh, a promised return bout tonight in a 15-round title affair.

Wilson, who expects an early call from his draft board, is rated evenly with the Canadian on his past performances. The Pittsburgher, reputed to be a much more polished boxer than the utilitarian, maintains that he was "very rusty" when Callura dethroned him by a slim margin in Providence in January.

Wilson, according to the sponsoring Boston Boxing association, has agreed to give Callura a return title match here next month if he emerges as the victor. The sponsors also have hopes of pitting their winner against Willie Pep of Hartford, Con-

RIPENESS

I like to hear the very sound of the word "ripe." It brings up so many happy memories. Ripe strawberries, oranges, apples, ripe grain—and ripe friendships.

It often takes an entire life-time to bring about a ripe friendship, or a ripe love. I read the other day of a married couple who lived ten years before they actually loved each other deeply. At that time their love seemed to come of age, to ripen.

But, to me, one of the most interesting of ripenesses is that of the mind. I have been absent from many a one, who in former years, I had known very well, only to discover upon renewed acquaintance, that his mind had ripened—into richness that really brought me into the presence of a new human being.

We go forward or backward. We cannot stand still. We either wither in our mental capacity or we enlarge and grow ripe.

The sun, the wind, the rain, the night—all these have something to do with the ripening of the many creations in Nature. And so with each of us, there must come into our lives all the elements that produce growth and fertility of soul—joy, sorrow, disappointment, loss. Into a mother's furrowed face hide the tears from her heart. That's why her smiles light up the darkest of earth's corners.

Hearts get ripe, too. Mellowed by all the turns of fate, they give forth warmth and breed beauty.

I spent a happy evening with a friend recently. I met him a quarter of a century ago—and all these years he has been a source of inspiration to me. But when we came together, after quite a period of absence, he seemed ripe in mind and heart then ever before. I recall, many years ago, when he came to me deeply discouraged and ready to give up. We had a grand talk and separated. He later went through many a burning fire, many an experience that would have broken a character less brave, but he only grew and ripened!

I love the multi-colored Autumn leaves best. They seem so ripe.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Success."

BURNED "OUT AND UP"

Pittsburgh, March 18 (AP)—Walter Werner was burned out of his home earlier this week and today he was "burned up." Werner and his family moved to another house after fire destroyed their home. Last night he reported a thief broke into the new residence and stole $85 worth of jewelry.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

Times Property Changes Hands: Announcement was made on Wednesday of the sale of the capital stock of the Times and News Publishing Company to Samuel G. Spangler. Possession was given March 15.

W. Lavere Hafer, president of the company and majority stock holder, acquired the Gettysburg Times and a small amount of printing equipment in 1909 from Ralph R. Buvinger. Located in the Eckert building it continued there until the fall of 1919 when it moved to the Times building on Carlisle street.

Named Manager: Lawrence Oyer, Baltimore street, has accepted the position of manager of the Automotive Stores Corporation business on Carlisle street. He succeeds Robert F. Bell, who resigned recently.

Pastor Installed: With large crowds attending both services, the Rev. Earl J. Bowman was formally installed pastor of St. James Lutheran church Sunday. Rev. Dr. J. A. Clutz admonished the congregation of its duties toward the new minister. Rev. Dr. A. R. Wentz at the evening service outlined the work ahead for the pastor. Dr. Clutz conducted the installation services in the evening.

Married at Home: Miss Sarah Catherine Hartlaub and Walter Fohl, both of Biglerville, were married at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Hartlaub, of Biglerville, on Saturday evening at 8 o'clock. The bridegroom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. William Fohl, of Biglerville. The Rev. S. F. Tholan performed the ceremony.

The couple was attended by Mr. and Mrs. Wilmer Lady, of Biglerville.

Wed at Parsonage: Charles William Hankey, of near Gettysburg, and Miss Myrtle May Topper, of McKnightstown, were married on Friday morning at 10:30 o'clock by the Rev. Earl J. Bowman at the parsonage of St. James Lutheran church.

Married At Biglerville: Miss Mary Ellen Cool, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Cool, of Biglerville, and Ivan Sterner Huff, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Huff, of Stone Jug, were married Thursday evening by the Rev. S. F. Tholan, in the Lutheran parsonage at Biglerville.

After April 1, the bride and groom will make their home in Gettysburg.

Married March 5: Announcement has been made of the marriage on March 5 at Towson, Maryland, of Miss Mary J. Redding, daughter of Joseph Redding, Baltimore street, and Paul R. Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Smith, of York. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Harry Lee, Mr. and Mrs. Smith are residing in York.

Announce Wedding: Raymond McKinley Warren, of Menallen township, and Miss Edith Ardella Beamer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Beamer, of Bendersville, were married at the home of the bride on March 1. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. H. E. Walhey, pastor of Grace Methodist Episcopal church, Philadelphia.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren will be at home on the Joseph Taylor farm after April 1.

Gettysburg Rifle Club Organized: The Gettysburg Rifle club, which came into being Monday night, organized with ten charter members, is making all plans for an active season.

Officers who were elected to serve the club are: Charles Myers, president; P. Mark Bream, vice president; G. W. Thompson, secretary; E. A. Deatrick, treasurer, and A. E. Hutchison, executive officer. Others who made up the ten charter members are F. A. Smith, L. J. Russell, Charles H. Drum, W. Preston Hull and Harry H. Thomas.

Two Properties Sold on Saturday: For a consideration of $7,800, the property on Carlisle street, known as the Washington hotel, was sold to J. L. Williams, Esq., R. C. Miller and D. J. Forney by Edward L. Weigle, who purchased the property from Charles Tate, Carlisle street. Possession will be given May 1. It is hoped to erect a new automobile service station to serve as a terminus for all bus lines radiating from Gettysburg.

Sale of the Springs avenue chapter house of Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity to George F. Eberhart, of Gettysburg, has been announced. The transaction took place Saturday. Mr. Eberhart will be given possession on April 1.

Personal: Mrs. Paul Singmaster, of Lancaster, is spending several days as the guest of Dr. and Mrs. J. A. Singmaster, Seminary avenue. Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Redding, of near Gettysburg, announce the birth of a daughter, Monica Josephine, on Wednesday.

Class No. 40, of St. James Lutheran Sunday school gave Miss Myra Culp, Center Square, a birthday surprise party at her home on Monday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Miller, York street, announce the birth of a daughter on Sunday.

Mrs. S. G. Spangler has returned

Legislature May Put Teacher Salary Load On Federal Fund

CORPORATION
INCOME LEVY
TO BE ALTERED

Harrisburg, March 18 (AP)—A plan was advanced by republican leaders of the Legislature today to raise up to $30,000,000 in the next biennium for school teachers' salaries "at the expense of the federal government" without increasing Pennsylvania state taxes.

The money would be raised by directing computation of the emergency levy on corporate net incomes before payment of federal taxes instead of assessing the state tax on the amount left after federal taxes, as at present.

As explained by one republican leader, who declined to be quoted by name, the plan also contemplates a reduction in the rate of the corporate net income levy from seven to four per cent because of the larger figure on which it would be computed.

"The reduction of the percentages is suggested so that Pennsylvania taxpayers would not be paying any more," he said in an interview, "but about $30,000,000 could be raised at the expense of the federal government."

Governor's Suggestion
The proposed plan was discussed after Governor Martin emphasized he would oppose any move to set up new taxes to raise $26,000,000—the sum estimated as necessary to give 63,000 school teachers raises ranging from $200 to $600 in the next two-year fiscal period.

Governor Martin has suggested that a change in the method of computing the state corporate income tax might be a solution to the problem of finding money for the teacher salary increase.

Another suggestion from the executive that the commonwealth's contribution to the increase might be lowered by requiring school districts to provide some of it, brought this comment from Rep. D. Raymond Sollenberger (R-Blair) chairman of the House Education committee:

"We'll fight any attempt to cut the increases. I'm inclined to think that under the present type of tax program, with a few slashes in governmental expenditures, we can raise the money."

"Plan Too Skimpy"
Rep. Edwin Winner (R-Montgomery), chairman of the Ways and Means committee which has charge of drawing up a plan to finance the boost for teachers, declined to comment on what suggestions his group is considering.

"We might have something ready next week," he declared.

Favoring the plan to raise needed funds by changing the corporate income tax law, Rep. Reuben E. Cohen, Democratic floor leader, suggested the levy might be reduced by only two per cent "to give the teachers a real salary increase."

"The present plan is too skimpy," he said. "Why not reduce it to five per cent and make sure you have enough?"

Margarine Out
The Legislature completed the week without any definite decision on whether the lawmakers would stay three or four days next week.

The Senate approved and sent to the House bills to permit members of the state Labor Relations board to engage in business or have union affiliations, and suspending for the duration a law prohibiting use of a substitute for dairy products in state institutions.

The House received major departmental appropriation bills in line with budget recommendations of the Governor and reported for action a measure which would increase truck limits from 39,000 to 45,000 pounds upon passage with the increase in fees becoming effective April 1, 1944.

French Youth Fight
Nazi Labor Sentence

London, March 18 (AP)—Thousands of French youths, fighting transfer as labor conscripts to war factories in Germany, remained lodged in the mountains of south-eastern France today, resisting the efforts of French police to round them up though German and Italian regular soldiers were reported waiting to move against them.

Under the leadership of 60-year-old Major General Cartier the youths waited for a showdown, and the Algiers radio reported more Frenchmen were pouring into the mountains to reinforce them.

This report, however, was tempered by Swiss advice which said hundreds of the youths had yielded to hunger and returned to their homes where they were promptly gathered in and sent summarily to Germany.

Houston, Tex. (AP)—Twelve-year-old Catherine Stokes dashed the champagne bottle against the prow of an escort vessel today with a practiced—but cautious—swing.

When she learned she was to christen the ship named for her river-fighting great grand uncle of the 1860's, Lieut. Charles Swasey, she went to the back yard of her Berwyn, Pa., home to rehearse.

She chose a tree for the prow and used a stick instead of a bottle, she explained.

The race was arranged to settle the community argument over whether a horse could travel twice as far as a man in a 24-hour period.

The miner had walked 65 miles in 19 hours, but quit when he learned the horse had made 135.

BILL WOULD SET COMMISSION
UP FARM LABOR

Harrisburg, March 18 (AP)—A bill introduced in the General Assembly sought legislative authority today for a farm labor commission to assist farmers in meeting the manpower shortage problem.

The measure, presented by Reps. Thomas B. Stockham (R-Bucks) and Norman Wood (R-Lancaster), would legalize a $250,000 appropriation. It listed duties of the commission, already appointed by Governor Martin, as:

Mobilizing such available labor as may be needed during the war emergency; disseminating information on difficulties faced by farmers; enlisting support of all public and private agencies and organizations; furnishing transportation for workers from one locality to another, and housing emergency labor.

The Agriculture department at the same time reported current estimates indicate shortages of 6,000 skilled and 50,000 seasonal agricultural workers in Pennsylvania.

Program Incomplete
Secretary Miles Horst, head of the commission, said "the pinch is in skilled labor."

He added in an interview that the commission's program still is in a formative stage and that J. M. Frey, director of agricultural extension at Pennsylvania State college, will direct the work. Local committees will be set up in every part of the state to help, he said.

Dr. Francis B. Haas, superintendent of public instruction, also a member of the commission, explained he plans to act promptly on school board requests for changes in school hours should the Legislature grant that authority under a measure already passed by the Senate.

Mercer, Pa., March 18 (AP)—Soldiers of the Army's Shenango Personnel Replacement Depot will be guests Saturday night at the first dance of Mercer's newly-organized USO.

392 BOMBS ARE PLASTERED ON BASE AT RABAU

(By The Associated Press)

Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters today reported a smashing assault on the big Japanese base at Rabaul, New Britain, in which Allied fliers plastered the airdrome with 392 bombs, while other United Nations airmen attacked an enemy outpost in the Kai Islands between Australia and New Guinea.

The attack on Rabaul, just before dusk yesterday, touched off many fires and explosions and further crippled Japan's aerial striking power in the southwest Pacific.

Meanwhile, a Tokyo broadcast quoted Premier Hideki Tojo as warning Japan that "the war situation is becoming more serious"—a confession underlined by Secretary Knox's statement in New York last night that Japan has lost 1,857,000 tons of shipping, or one-third of her tonnage at the beginning of the war.

"Initiative Is Ours"

"The journey to victory is just begun," Knox said. "We have reached the point where the conduct of this struggle will be, from now on, of our own choosing. The initiative is ours."

While Japan displayed signs of worry over the trend of the war, Allied warplanes continued to blast at the westward movement of Japanese troops and supplies to the islands about Australia, attacking three enemy coastal vessels off western Dutch New Guinea.

At the same time, Gen. MacArthur revealed the discovery of an elaborate Japanese encampment 50 miles above Allied-captured Buna, New Guinea, which was apparently intended as a base for a new offensive by 15,000 enemy troops killed in the battle of the Bismarck sea.

Allied troops found the camp while mopping up in the area of the Mambare river mouth.

A communique said the base afforded an "elaborate and recently constructed defense system, including prepared positions, pillboxes and hospital and other installations for a large force"—the force that was sent to the bottom of the Bismarck sea in the destruction of a 22-ship Japanese convoy en route to New Guinea.

Opera Uses Piano
Only At Fort Dix

Fort Dix, N. J., March 18 (AP)—A piano was the only accompaniment here last night for a performance by the Philadelphia Opera company and producer David Hocker announced that union officials in Philadelphia had prohibited the company's musicians from contributing their services.

Hocker said that union officials ruled yesterday that they "did not want to set a precedent" by permitting the musicians to perform gratis.

He said the orchestra had played for company visits to three other army posts during the past two weeks, and that the union decision had resulted in cancellation of a tour by the company to several other army and navy stations.

At Philadelphia, Frank Luizzi, president of Local 77, American Federation of Musicians (AFL), last night declined to comment but said that he might "have something to say about it" today.

Postman Ringing
Congress Doorbell

Washington, March 18 (AP)—Agreeing that "the postman always rings twice," Representative Miller (R-Pa) told the House during debate on the postal-raise bill (HR 1366) that postmen have been ringing congressional doorbells for years asking for a raise in pay.

"There is no question but that the postal employees are entitled to the increase in pay they are about to receive," he said.

Another Pennsylvania Republican representative, Van Zandt, said that in supporting the legislation for a temporary $300-a-year increase the Congress would be "recognizing honest and faithful service and applying the biblical injunction, 'the laborer is worthy of his hire'."

The bill was approved by the House, 381-4. The Pennsylvania delegation supported the measure. McGraney (D), Pracht (R) and Scott (R) were recorded as not voting.

CLIMAX NEARS IN BATTLE FOR MEDITERRANEAN

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

If Berlin has read the writing on the wall correctly we may be at the climax of one of the most important military operations of the whole war—the final Tunisian offensive to drive the Axis from northern Africa and thus regain control of the Mediterranean.

This would mean a coordinated effort by all the Allied forces—British, French and American—from one end of Tunisia to the other. We are out for a quick kill, because victory here is the key to other vital developments, including invasion of western Europe, and perhaps a blow at Italy.

We even are reminded by Turkish Premier Saracoglu's pro-Allied speech before the national assembly yesterday that freeing of the Mediterranean might bring the Turks in on our side, if we need them. In any event, we do know that he who controls the Mediterranean wins the war.

Great Difficulties

The Germans say that General Montgomery and his British Eighth Army have opened the show in the south by striking at the coastal end of the powerful Mareth line of fortifications. It wouldn't be surprising to see him among the first to come into action, for these defenses represent the major obstacle to be overcome.

The Nazi statement that Montgomery has struck at one end of the Mareth line isn't surprising, since it is so strong that it would be logical for him to try a flanking movement. The terrain is such, however, that even a flank attack presents great difficulties.

Here we have all the elements of a fierce and dramatic final duel between two of the outstanding personalities of the war. Montgomery and Rommel both rank among the greatest tacticians of their time. I dare say that not a little of their tactical success has been due to the fact that both of them direct battle operations from the scene of the engagement rather than from headquarters in the rear. This enables them to make quick changes in tactics if necessity or opportunity arises.

Desert "Magnet" Line

Marshal Rommel is the only German in this war for whom I have heard Allied officers express admiration both as a soldier and a good sport.

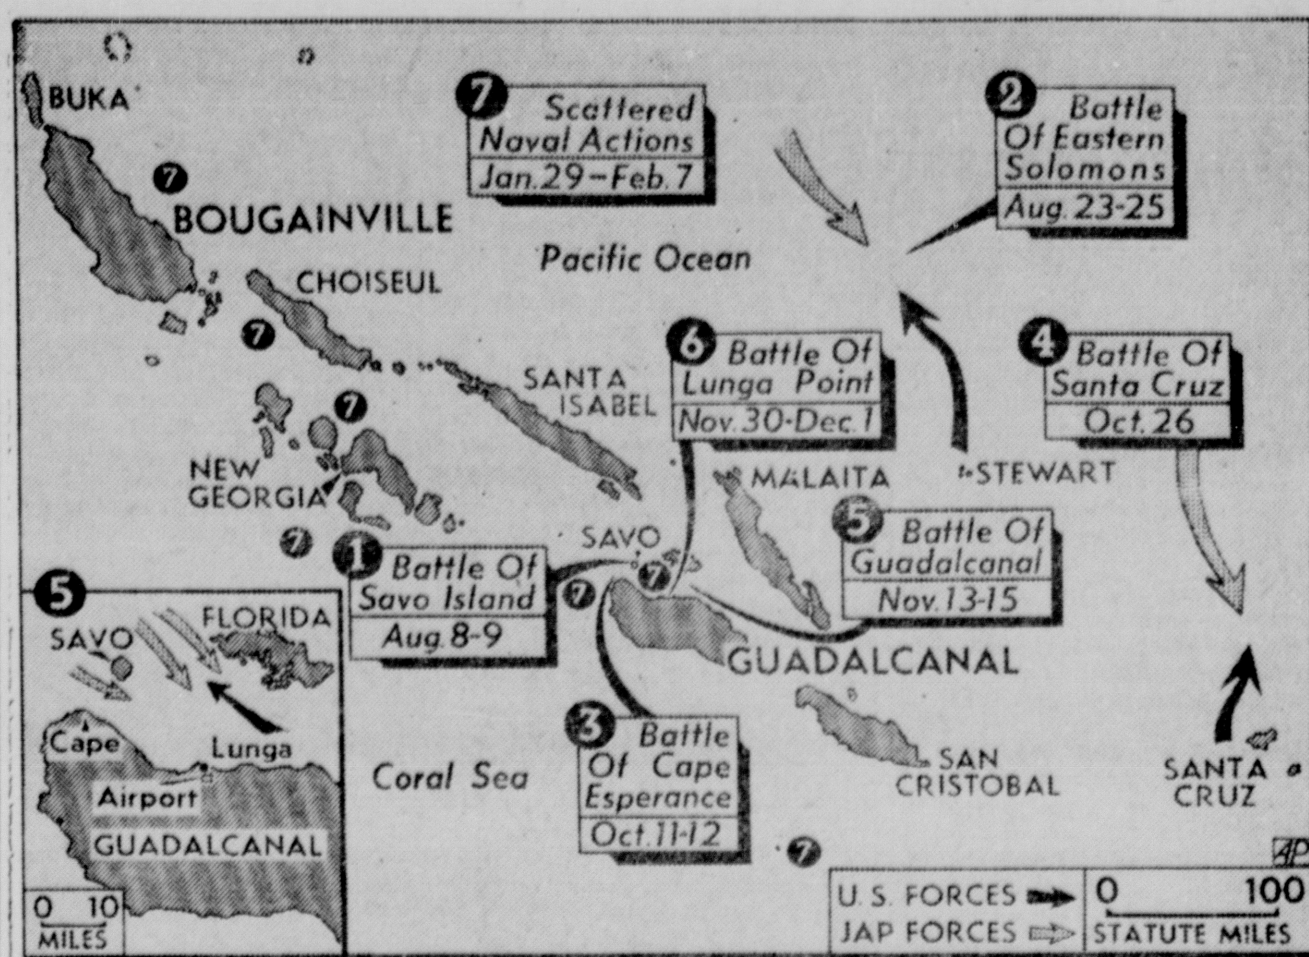

The Mareth line is a fitting stage setting for this great showdown, though it gives Rommel a temporary advantage because of its strength. They call it the "Magnet" line of the desert, because it is built of reinforced concrete on the same principle as the Magnet line in France.

The line lies seventy-five miles from the Italian Libyan frontier and cuts across the road from Tunisia to Libya just below the Mareth oasis near the Tunisian coast. The fortifications are some ten miles deep. There are concrete redoubts of varying sizes, interspersed with tank traps, and back of these is a concrete line. The difficulty of breaking through this is increased by the fact that mountains have been incorporated into the defenses.

"Strong Enough"

The name "Magnet" may not be much of a recommendation in view of what happened to the line in France. However, it should be not-

Seven Stages In The Solomon Islands Naval Campaign

Locations of the numerous sea and air battles figuring in the six-months Solomon Islands campaign from August to February are provided in this map, based on the U.S. Navy's recapitulation. It was in the naval "Battle of Guadalcanal," detailed at the lower left inset map, in which Jap naval forces experienced their greatest loss, with U.S. forces sinking 28 enemy warships and cargo ships, including two battleships, eight cruisers and six destroyers. Scattered naval actions, denoted by numbers 7, attendant on the final Japanese collapse of resistance on Guadalcanal spread over a wide area to the south, the west and the northwest of that island itself.

TEXTILE WORK BRINGS WOMAN FAME, FORTUNE

By ADELAIDE KERR
AP Writer

Dorothy Liebes is among the best "one man shows" in American business.

She is to textiles what Schiaparelli is to clothes.

She can take plastic beads, blue green chenille, black fur, silver thread, red raffia — and a few more things — and weave them into an evening jacket fabric that will do more for romance than Cinderella's slippers. She does some simpler and less expensive tricks for Mrs. Jones' draperies and curtains too.

Mrs. Liebes also has the reputation of being a shrewd business woman. So when she talks about business trends after the war, you can afford to listen.

New Designs

The other day she said in rapid fire English over cinnamon toast and tea in New York:

"After the war we're going to use design expressions from China, India and the South Sea Islands. Before the war Americans never thought of the Pacific. If they had ed that the Germans beat the French fortifications, not by frontal assault but by a flanking operation. French Premier Daladier inspected Tunisia's "Magnet line of the desert" in January of 1939, just before the war, and he called it strong enough to resist any attack.

That was about the time that France and Britain decided to abandon appeasement of the Axis. Not so long afterward the "impregnable" Magnet line—one of the wonders of the world—was in the hands of the Germans.

a few dollars they went to Europe. But I doubt whether in our lifetime Europe will ever again be the influence that it was. The Pacific is the coming great sphere of influence. New ideas, patterns and forms will come from the Pacific—and that includes Central and South America. Our biggest markets will be there. We each have things the others want. Europe is prostrate. It is not going to be a big market for a long time. But our boys have been to Australia, remember. It's no longer a strange country to them.

"With the development of the airplane distance has been lost. After the war the average Mr. Snooks will be able to go to the orient."

Education

The very air seems to crackle when Mrs. Liebes talks. She is a tall, blonde, good looking gal who wears her hair in a modern pompadour in front and an old-fashioned coil of braids in the back. She was born Dorothy Wright in California, lives there still and reflects a strong California influence in her work.

She attended the California School of Fine Arts and was graduated from the University of California. After she took her Master's degree at Columbia she taught three years at Teachers' College. Then she went abroad for a year, and after her return was married to Leon Liebes, a California merchant.

Early in her girlhood she became interested in textiles. And before her education was complete she went to Hull House in Chicago for study. Therefore she was never without a

Brothers Get 5 Years For Hijacking Eggs

Beaver, Pa., March 18 (AP) — Judge Henry H. Wilson sentenced Belmont and Robert Kereses, brothers of Darlington, Pa., to five to 20 years yesterday for the hijacking of a truck load of eggs and poultry last November.

The two were convicted of armed robbery, larceny of an automobile and imprisonment of Arthur Laipley of Van Wert, Ohio, the truck driver.

"Weaving is like aviation," she says, "after you have mastered the Therapist she was never without a flight."

Employs 8 to 15

Mrs. Liebes lives in a modern apartment overlooking San Francisco's Chinatown and works in a separate studio where she employs 8 to 15 girls. She has woven textiles for some of the biggest private houses and designers in America. She begins by making colored crayon cartoons of every design, selects her materials, dyes them and weaves the first yard of every textile herself.

Ideas fly to her like metal to a magnet. She works like an electric dynamo and runs on about four hours sleep a night. But she doesn't miss any fun. Goes out about five nights a week. Then comes home and dictates 30 to 40 letters on a dictating machine before she goes to bed.

PUBLICATION OF DRAFT NAMES IN ADVANCE IS OUT

By RALPH E. WALLIS

Harrisburg, March 18 (AP)—State Selective Service headquarters today banned publication of names or number of men called for induction into military service.

Col. B. F. Evans, acting state director, explained new orders from national headquarters rescind previous regulations which allowed publication of quota information prior to the actual induction of men.

The reason for the new order was not announced.

"A list of men accepted and inducted may be furnished by local boards to newspapers for publication but no longer are boards allowed to 'furnish lists of men ordered for induction,' Evans said.

CROMER'S BUS SERVICE

Cleason Cromer, Prop.

225 N. College St. Phone 1227-R Carlisle, Pa.

Publication of dates for inducted men to report to reception centers, he added, is not under the jurisdiction of Selective Service, because the men—once inducted—are in the armed forces and come under military regulations.

Orders To Boards

New orders to local boards read: "Information concerning quotas or calls shall not be examined by, disclosed, or furnished to anyone except when required in the administration of Selective Service system. The same applies to information concerning names or total number of men forwarded to the induction station on any call, or during any period of time.

"Upon request of local publication agencies, the local board should, or upon its own motion, the local board may, after the delivery list has been returned from the induction station, prepare a list showing name, address and branch of service of each registrant who was accepted and inducted and may post such list or furnish it to news services, newspapers and radio stations.

"Under no circumstances should such list include registrants rejected at the induction station."

FALSE TEETH That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Holds false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEETH at any drug store.

CHANGE SEEN IN CIVILIAN DRAFT FOR INDUSTRIES

Washington, March 18 (AP)—Broad revision of legislation to draft civilians for war industry appeared imminent today to assure more women workers in the older age group and also to soothe opposition of organized labor.

As congressional efforts to deal with growing manpower problems sent to the house a Senate-approved bill deferring essential farm workers from bearing arms, sponsors of the Austin-Wadsworth national service proposal indicated a general overhauling is in prospect. Meanwhile talk of limiting the size of the armed forces was renewed by Senator Nye (R-ND) who said he and two colleagues would offer legislation to that end soon. "The War department is attempting to raise an Army of more than 8,000,000 including the Army Air Force, but I personally believe a figure of around 5,000,000 men would be ample to do the job," Nye said.

Women's Request
Nye said that through lend-lease and other programs this country has taken the position of being the "arsenal of democracy" and "we are producing materials and equipment for all the Allies far beyond our proportionate share."

Within 24 hours after William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, testified at a Senate Military committee hearing that the Austin-Wadsworth bill would impose "involuntary servitude" on American workers, Senator Austin (R-Vt), co-writer of the measure, said the labor chieftain will

Socialites Re-Marry After May Divorce

Philadelphia, March 18 (AP)—Socially prominent Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McKean, 5th, divorced last May, have remarried, it was revealed when Orphan's court awarded McKean and his sister, Nancy a half interest each in an $854,178 trust fund left by their father, Thomas McKean, 4th. The time and place of the remarriage were not disclosed.

The first Thomas McKean, a signer of the Declaration of Independence, was chief justice of Pennsylvania during the Revolutionary war and later became governor.

Ask Signal Change After False "Blue"

Maplewood, N. J., March 18 (AP)—A "Blue" air raid signal accidentally was sounded here last night, causing a partial blackout and bringing a new appeal for a change in Army signal regulations.

J. W. Woolley, local defense council chairman, said short circuit at the firehouse set off the air raid siren and that it blew for 15 minutes before it could be silenced. Its blare was heard here and in Irvington, South Orange, West Orange, East Orange, Orange and a portion of Newark along the Irvington town line.

Air raid wardens hurried to their posts, and homes and business houses were darkened.

be asked to aid in re-writing some of the draft provisions.

Austin also disclosed that "at the request of women, themselves," the committee would study advisability of increasing the age limit of those who would be affected, from 18 to 50 years to 18 to 65 years—the same age group as suggested for men.

Seek Corner On Coupon Market

Philadelphia, March 18 (AP)—A spokesman for the Butchers and Meat Jobbers association asserted today that some Philadelphia wholesalers are withholding meat from the market in an effort to "corner" the coupon market after rationing starts March 29.

Arthur E. Dennis, association attorney, said the wholesalers plan to sell during a "meat holiday" planned by the OPA during the first two weeks of rationing. The holiday is for wholesalers and jobbers only.

Meanwhile Natale Masi, president of Local 195 of the Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butcher Workmen (AFL) said that a three-week-old meat shortage here has resulted in the lay-off of 4,500 butchers' employees.

Investigate Ration Banking Charges

Trenton, N. J., March 18 (AP)—William Henry Lawton, chief enforcement attorney of the seven-county Trenton district of the Office of Price Administration, said today his staff was investigating several cases of misrepresentation of the value of ration stamps and coupons deposited by merchants in ration banking accounts.

One violator is more than 1,000 stamps short of his claimed deposit, Lawton said, warning that criminal prosecution or suspension of license to deal in any rationed commodity threatened violators.

Perkiomenville, Pa., March 18 (AP)—Mrs. Bessie Thompson, 50, of Bristol, Pa., was killed by an automobile on Swamp pike near here last night.

Two Women Shot On Philadelphia Street

Philadelphia, March 18 (AP)—An unidentified assailant shot and critically wounded a policeman's wife and her sister on a street corner early today, then fled.

The victims were Mrs. Joan Jones, wife of Patrolman James Jones, and Rita Marano, 21. Both were shot in the abdomen.

Police quoted witnesses as saying the two women were walking at 12th and Ritner streets when a man wearing a dark coat approached them and opened fire.

Patrolman James Greco, who had just alighted from a trolley, took them to a hospital.

FACES GRAND JURY

Erie, Pa., March 18 (AP)—William McCausland is awaiting action of the May grand jury on a charge of murder in the fatal shooting of Leo P. Knoll after a practical joke March 4 in an Erie cafe. McCausland was given a hearing yesterday before Alderman William Heisler.

PATTON HEADS YANKEE TROOPS

Allied Headquarters in North Africa, March 18 (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower replaced Maj. Gen. Lloyd R. Fredendall today with Lt. Gen. George S. Patton, armored force specialist, as commander of United States troops on the western Tunisian front.

General Patton, called "Blood and Guts" as one of the most offensive-minded generals of the Army, is regarded here as the outstanding American armored force executive since the death of Maj. Gen. Adna R. Chaffee in August, 1941.

"This dispatch did not bring out immediately the new assignment of General Fredendall, who was in command of American troops in western Tunisia at the time of the Axis breakthrough in mid-February and the subsequent Allied counter-offensive."

Colorful Figure
General Patton, who commanded American forces in the Morocco landing when Africa was invaded, is colorful in speech and action.

Before the Morocco landing, his order of the day read:

"We shall attack and attack until we are exhausted and then we shall attack again."

Patton has been quoted as saying of his expressed desire to meet German Field Marshal Rommel in individual tank combat:

"The two armies could watch. I'd be in one tank, Rommel in another. I'd shoot at him; he'd shoot at me. If I killed him, I'd be champ. If he killed me—well, he won't."

Near Riot At Butter Sale To 'First Comers'

Wilkesburg, Pa., March 18 (AP)—Grocer E. R. Kregar almost started a riot when he offered his entire week's allotment of 2,100 pounds of butter yesterday to "first comers." Police estimated more than 2,000 were still in the lengthy line when the supply, doled out one pound to the customer, was exhausted.

"Butter was our biggest headache," explained Kregar. "Customers just wouldn't believe we didn't have butter and a lot of them insisted we were playing favorites. Now clerks can forget butter until next week."

GETS FIVE YEARS IN DRAFT CASE

Erie, Pa., March 18 (AP)—Federal Judge F. P. Schoonmaker sentenced Harold Louis Zimmerman, 20, of Warren, to five years in prison on a charge of failing to report for his Selective Service physical examination.

Zimmerman, in a lengthy address to the jury yesterday, said he was a member of a religious sect opposed to war and should be granted deferment.

Hdrey Warren Beebe of Franklin told the court he was guilty of violating the Selective Service law but now wished to join the Army. His case was continued until May to give him a chance to enlist.

Changes Plea
Walter Joseph Presser, Erie war industry employee, was given a year in prison on a charge of draft evasion but the sentence was suspended and he was placed on probation for two years.

Walter C. Crawford of Conneville, who said he was a chiropractor, was sentenced to three years in prison on a charge of attempting to hamper the Selective Service act, after he interrupted his trial to change his plea from innocent to guilty.

Two Conneville youths testified Crawford sold them pills which he said would raise their blood pressure and cause them to be rejected by the Army. The youths said they paid Crawford with money marked by the FBI.

War Security Act

Washington, March 18 (AP)—Fearful lest innocent citizens face prosecution unfairly, the House Rules Committee held up for further study today legislation to tighten the anti-sabotage laws and to impose the death penalty for offenses against the national safety.

Recommended by the Justice Department and approved by the judiciary committee, the legislation, known as "the War Security Act," grew largely out of the arrest and execution last year of eight Nazi agents who slipped into the United States by submarine.

At a preliminary hearing Tuesday, some rules committee members expressed fear the legislation was so broadly drawn it could be used for prosecution as well as for protection.

TO CURB ABSENTEES

Washington, March 18 (AP)—A measure aimed at curbing absenteeism among war plant workers was approved, 19 to 7 Wednesday by the House naval committee.

Uncle Sam Has No Need Of Weak Sister Group

By MARGARET KERNODLE AP Features Writer

Washington—Dr. Dorothy LaSalle is a worried woman.

The thing she's worried about is the way women are losing their chance to be physically fit for war work—work they must do to enable more men to leave civilian life for military duty.

What's happening in too many places, she says, is that school administrators, intent on making boys fit to fight, shove their sisters out of their own gymnasiums.

Dr. LaSalle is traveling about the United States appearing in U. S. Office of Education institutes designed to encourage a hurry-up program of physical fitness for both sexes in high school. (Later there will be a college program too.) In New York and Boston more than 1,000 educators turned out for the institutes, and Dr. LaSalle says they were eager to pep up the physical training program.

As an expert consultant to the Office of Education, Dr. LaSalle is now on leave of absence for a year from the East Orange, N. J., schools, where she is physical education director.

She has studied American women and children extensively as an expert. She was a member of the White House Conference for Child Health and Protection called by President Hoover in 1929-31. She's been in administrative work in New York and Chicago and in Bennington, Vt. Her undergraduate and graduate study was at the University of Oregon and Columbia University.

Trained For Girls Recently a man said to her "What do these school girls need with physical training?" They're going into a factory.

And that is the reason! The very reason, says Dr. LaSalle, that they do need physical training just as many other women will need it. They must be able to do any little job over and over and over accurately and fast.

She explains the kind of endurance women are to need more and more will be the ability to stand on our feet for long hours of tedious and perhaps boring routine work. And we require greater strength of feet and abdominal walls than most of us seem to have.

For more lifting, women must be stronger in the arms and shoulders.

Dr. LaSalle not only found some high school girls unable to run an obstacle course but others even unwilling to try. She has discovered too many women in uniform unable to take a three-mile walk.

For reasons like that she sees special need to protect production work by training high school and college girls for physical strength now.

Teach 'Em Young

The best time to train women physically is at high school age, because they develop strength. That fits them for whatever jobs they must do later.

Dr. LaSalle pleads that mothers take as good care of themselves as of their children, points out that they, too, need exercise (walking will do), diet as balanced as their baby's and sufficient rest.

She advises mothers-to-be to take extra special care of themselves because their babies are being born in difficult days: short stays at hospitals and little or no help afterward at home.

And her reminder for American women generally is that a big reason for physically strength is the fact that bodily fitness is so closely related to morale.

Farm Bloc Ready To Free Old Wheat

Washington, March 18 (AP)—With serious feed shortages threatened in eastern seaboard and west coast deficit areas, the congressional farm bloc appeared willing to authorize the government to sell 100,000,000 bushels of reserve wheat for livestock feed at price levels below those which the bloc has been insisting on.

Edward A. O'Neal, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation and a leader of groups which have demanded parity prices for farm products, said the senate was being urged to pass a house-approved bill which would permit government wheat to be sold for less than corn parity prices.

"The need for the wheat for feed was so great," said O'Neal, "that we thought it best to compromise with the administration on the matter."

"We will need more child care centers in Pennsylvania than any of us imagine," declared the defense director.

"We still have ahead of us such a great turnover in manpower that we do not realize how many women will have to go into business and industry to sustain war production and our civilian economy."

H. David Pitzer, 14-year-old son of H. Earl Pitzer, Aspers R. 1, has scarlet fever and was placed under quarantine at his home in Menallen township, Wednesday afternoon by William I. Shields, county health officer. The boy is a Biglerville high school student.

When she finished, she was crying softly, quietly, and with a peace she hadn't known since her return to the Island. She was only dimly aware of Don's arm about her shoulders, of his voice murmuring to her.

"Father's absent-minded. He won't admit it, but he is," he was saying. "In the strain of the last few weeks the letter simply slipped his mind. You do understand, don't you, Linda?"

She nodded absently. O'Shannessey's guilt seemed of no consequence at the moment. She turned her head and cried against Don's shoulder.

"You're lonely here by yourself," Don was saying softly. "You should not be alone now."

"Maybe not," she agreed with a sigh. "It can be any day you say, you know." His voice was caressing, urgent. "Let's pick the day now. Tomorrow?"

As Linda hesitated, the chimes at the front door sounded. Maria hurried through to open the door. At the sound of the voices outside, Don stiffened. He said quietly, "I'll send them away." But he was only halfway to the door when the two men stepped in past Maria. Linda realized belatedly then who they were. The papaya buyers!

The taller of the men held onto her hand while his face lighted in the old wide engaging grin. "Brown and McCullough, the old pests," he reminded her. "And we came to wheedle you into some action on that crystallization plant."

Don broke in with sudden heat. "I'm sorry, gentlemen, but Miss Morrison does not want to talk business now. If you have anything to say to her, I'll be glad as foreman of her ranch to listen to it."

McCullough's smile tightened. "The little lady here is the only one among you who seemed to have a glimmering of what we were talking about." He shrugged his shoulders and turned back toward the door.

Linda heard herself calling them back. Surprised, the three men turned to face her. She took a quick breath.

"Now please tell us the facts," Linda begged softly. "We love our solitude and beauty on Santa Rosario. Is there sufficient reason why we should break that up to allow shiploads of workers to overrun the place, ruining the trees, building an unsightly shed of some kind, and starting a constant traffic through the Island?"

"No reason at all," McCullough said with brusque sarcasm, "except that there's a war going on—a war that's killing and maiming more folks in one day than wars used to."

Giving her up was the hardest thing he had endured since her mother's death fifteen years before. He couldn't write these things to her at school. He hoped he would live to tell her himself, but if not, this was his goodbye, with his deepest love.

Chapter 15

"Maria! Maria! Mar-i-a!"

The old Indian woman ran along the dusky hall and in through Linda's bedroom to the adjoining bathroom, her face wrinkled into a happy grin.

Linda was in the tub, a few black curls escaping at the nape of her neck from the high-pinned mass atop her head.

Maria opened a chest of painted drawers and brought a large white bath towel to hold beside the tub. "You were always in the beeg hurry," she said fondly.

Linda finished her bath and stepped into the bath towel Maria held. She was humming.

"You happy now, Senorita?"

Linda patted the woman's cheek affectionately. "Why shouldn't I be happy?" she demanded. "Now come and help me dress. I want to look so shockingly beautiful Uncle Mike and Don will not remember I've been naughty."

New York, March 18 (AP)—Although he has been a broadcaster for years and years, Paul Whiteman now has his first post as a network executive. He has just been named director of music for the BLU by its president, Mark Woods.

The announcement said he would be in charge of all musical programs of the network and related activities. He also is to continue to make personal appearances from time to time.

Whiteman will not take up his headquarters in the network's New York offices until June inasmuch as until that time he will be in Hollywood to complete his contract on CBS with the Burns and Allen show, which is returning to the coast after three weeks in New York. He will have temporary offices in the BLU studios at Hollywood.

CALLS MURRAY "LEADER OF DAY"

Pittsburgh, March 18 (AP)—Patrick T. Fagan, who retires March 31 as president of District 5, United Mine Workers, after serving in that office 22 years, urges miners to "recognize Phil Murray as the labor statesman of our day and age."

Fagan was defeated for re-election several months ago by John Busarello, who had the strong support of John L. Lewis, UMW president. Fagan had sided with CIO President Murray when Lewis had Murray ousted as vice president of the United Mine Workers.

In his "farewell" letter to district miners, Fagan wrote he had "suffered persecution and betrayal at the hands of men who professed friendship." He did not mention Lewis in his letter.

Fagan is reported to be under consideration for appointment to the War Manpower Commission in western Pennsylvania.

FSA Will Shift 1,300 Farm Workers

Upper Darby, Pa., March 18 (AP)—The Farm Security Administration next month will transport another 1,300 migratory farm workers from West Virginia and Kentucky to labor-shortage areas in Pennsylvania, New Jersey, New York, Delaware and Maryland, Regional Director J. H. Wood announced last night.

Wood said 850 have been moved during the last five weeks and their families also were transported after they expressed satisfaction with their new jobs.

The program soon will be extended to Vermont and New Hampshire, the regional director said.

Soldier's Suit Is Dismissed By Court

Morristown, N. J., March 18 (AP)—Circuit Judge John C. Barbour Tuesday dismissed a former soldier's suit for $100,000 against a draft board physician.

The plaintiff, Herbert H. Hirschhorn of Mt. Freedom, claimed Dr. William Blake Gibb of Morristown gave him only a "perfunctory examination" and that an eye disease he was suffering from was aggravated during five months he served with the Army.

Hirschhorn was inducted in February, 1941, and was discharged from the service in July of the same year after spending a month in a hospital.

Barbour said the government, and not the physician personally, should have been named defendant in any such action, and added that facts alleged by Hirschhorn were insufficient to sustain a cause for action.

SCOUT A MAJOR

Erie, Pa., March 18 (AP)—Paul A. Siple, who as a Boy Scout accompanied Admiral Richard Byrd to the Antarctic, told his parents here he had been promoted to major in the U. S. Army. He is in the Quartermaster department, stationed at Washington, D. C.

BIG OIL SAVING

New York, March 18 (AP)—The War Production board estimated that petroleum order No. 3, which cut fuel oil allotments by 40 per cent for non-essential industries, has effected a savings of more than 78,000,000 gallons in the east.

SOLDIERS TO GO TO PENN STATE

Washington, March 18 (AP)—Approximately 1,000 Army trainees are expected to arrive at Pennsylvania State college within the next month for special training. Representative Van Zandt (R-Pa.) said he has been informed.

Van Zandt said the college will train 500 Air Corps men, expected about March 25, and 500 trainees in engineering courses, beginning about April 25.

In addition, he said, the college has been selected to participate in a basic course and a pre-medical course for Army trainees and an advanced engineering course for Navy trainees. He stated he "understood" Penn State also had been listed for consideration for a Navy basic training course.

An Army survey board is expected to visit the college within a few days for program discussions and a Navy board visit will follow soon, he added.

Guilty Of Shooting Lancaster Woman

Elkton, Md., March 18 (AP)—Charged with assault on Mrs. Henry A. Niesen of Lancaster, Pa., with intent to kill, Stephen D. Holly, 18, of Port Deposit, Maryland, was convicted in county court yesterday and sentenced to 10 years in Maryland penitentiary.

Mrs. Niesen, wife of a soldier stationed at Aberdeen, testified that Holly, a Maryland State guardsman, stopped her car on a bridge the night of December 26, made advances to her and shot her in the chest when she resisted.

Mark St. Patrick's Day In Legislature

Harrisburg, March 18 (AP)—Two Philadelphia Democrats—born on St. Patrick's Day—were honored yesterday by their colleagues in the House.

They are Reps. Herman Modell, who was born on Green street in Reading, and Benjamin Boory. Speaker Fiss presented each with a green carnation from huge bouquets adorning the rostrum.

Abbottstown Man Hurt In Accident

Samuel J. Diehl, 52, West King street, Abbottstown, suffered head injuries in an accident while at work in the plant of the Colonial Casting company, Hanover street, New Oxford, about 7:15 o'clock Wednesday morning. According to a member of the company, Mr. Diehl had been sledging a gate from a casting when the sledge rebounded striking him on the forehead. Dr. Wilbur Miller, New Oxford, was summoned and administered first aid.

Diehl was removed in the Hanover ambulance to the Hanover General hospital where he was admitted as a patient. X-rays of the head were to be made to determine the extent of the injuries which were described as not serious.

They are all looking up towards a large, towering stack of Stauffer's Saltines that appears to be floating in the air above them. The stack is composed of many individual saltine crackers, some of which are shown in detail with their characteristic crisscross pattern. The family is dressed in mid-20th-century attire. The man is on the left, the woman is on the right, and two children are seated between them. The table is set with a white tablecloth and some dishes. The overall scene suggests a family enjoying a meal together, with the saltines being a central part of their diet.

FURNITURE IS BEST ASSET IN "CHARM" ROOM

Many a despairing bride learned too late that you can't sit around and do nothing about it till "after you're married." Then overnight expect to blossom into a little home-body with a knack for turning a bare apartment into a love-nest . . . or a house into a home! What you can do, is start right now, wherever you live, and put some of your own personal charm into your room.

Stores are becoming conscious of the specific furnishing problems of girls living at home . . . girls sharing apartments . . . girls away from home for the first time, living in drab furnished rooms and apartments and wondering why they are restless and unhappy when they come home from a hard day's work. Perhaps it's the sudden shift from the hearthstone to the teaming war production areas . . . perhaps it's because the war suddenly makes "home" the most precious spot on earth . . . whatever it is, there is a growing desire among single girls to learn more about decorating and furnishing . . . and it is good, for the girls and for the future.

The Charm Test

Whether you're living at home with your family . . . sharing an apartment with girls . . . or living in furnished quarters, here's a simple test that will prove whether or not your room has charm and harmony. Close your eyes . . . enter your room . . . now open your eyes! Does what you see "lift you up" or "let you down?" If it doesn't give you a lift . . . then your room needs a lift. Did you know that the wrong colors, bad furniture arrangement can actually produce fatigue, restlessness and bad disposition? Next time anyone calls you ill-tempered . . . check up and see if it's a new gay bedspread and draperies you need! If you have trouble relaxing and reading in your own room, maybe it's poor lighting and furniture arrangement.

Suits steal the show for Easter and spring time! Featured here are suits with lasting smartness endless wearability. Tailored of "Victoreen," a new spun rayon and wool fabric—tested for satisfactory service, long wear. Look for fabric labels, they're your best guide to wearability.

Every Room Has Basic Needs

Once you've decided your room flunks the Charm test . . . start to do something about it! You don't have to be an experienced decorator, and you don't need a big budget. You know how to tackle and solve your "clothes wardrobe" problems . . . apply the same principles, and think in terms of a "room wardrobe." Your room needs refreshing, refurbishing, and modernizing just as your clothes do. The furnishings and accessories should express your personality

HATS HAVE GONE ALL-OUT TO HELP MILADY FEEL FIT

Miss and Mrs. America have put on their hats and gone all-out for victory. With a smile and pretty chapeau as their own special weapons, they are making things hum, throughout the nation. Millinery departments from coast to coast are ready with blithe spring hats to help women feel well groomed and appropriately dressed, whatever her place in our national scheme of things.

If she's working outside her home, she wants trim good-looking street hats to wear to and from her job. She may choose from the many new felt casuals. Highlights among these are fedoras, smart berets, pert calots and even tailored bonnets.

News, too, are the "suit hats" that are so effective in plain or ribbed felt or tweedy weaves as well as in rough and smooth straws. Most of these are high-crowned, with narrow brims, and are worn well forward on the head. Colors ranging from Natural through Sunburnt to vivid shades pep up subdued business suits. And white is still one of the best bets for flattery, as well as safety, these dimmed out nights.

"Picture-Pretties"

Come nightfall, our heroine seizes home to prepare for an evening's relaxation. With a mere switch of hats, she achieves an entire change of character. A shallow crowned, nostalgic little straw, crowned with soft blue hydrangeas, transforms her from capable business executive into sweetly feminine beauty. Such a hat is guaranteed to occasion over-the-table compliments galore.

The myriad women serving so admirably on the "home front" are learning that the right hats are a big help, too. For accompanying junior to school, for instance, there are intriguing new "walking hats" that are dashing of line and gay of color.

Some of these are "patchwork" felts with cutout squares of bright-toned felt applied for trimming. There are youthful peasant hats, too, for young mothers who go on from school to marketing or Red Cross work.

SPRING CREATION

One of the freshest fashions for spring is a New York creation dress of Chinese silk in pale subtle colors. Designs on this natural-colored silk are delphinium, blue, violet or coral. Because they are so colorful, the dresses are beautiful, simple and follow the new narrow silhouette.

TO WORK ON FARMS

FELT HATS FOR MEN ARE LIGHT

Men will find a good range of hat styles when they go out to buy their lightweight felts this spring. The new hats are smart and there are plenty of types from which to choose. All the best-liked colors are still with us—many shades of gray and brown, blues and greens. Brims have stayed about the same—that is they vary from the wide brims favored in some section of the country to the narrower brims that are labor, the college announced yesterday.

more noticeable in some cities. The width of this year's brim is chiefly a matter of choice.

A style that recommends itself particularly to the spring season, and one that is growing fast in many sections, is the felt hat trimmed with light contrast band and binding. In the spring a change to the lighter-color effect is pleasant, and this particular style is one that lightens and brightens without being "fancy." Style-conscious California has taken it up in a big way, as have many towns in the mid-west.

The pre-blocked felt gives a man a perfectly shaped hat and assures him of the smartness the designer had in mind. Most pre-blocked felts have a hand-blocked look, and they will be in the hat stores this spring.

Asked To Help Kill "Black" Meat Market

Harrisburg, March 18 (AP)—Pennsylvania livestock slaughterers were asked to assist in wiping out the black market meat in the state today by James E. Walker, chairman of the Pennsylvania War Board of the United States Department of Agriculture.

"If meat rationing is to become successful," Walker said, "it is imperative that none of the supplies by-pass the rationing program." Under the program effective April 1, all slaughterers and dealers must secure permits for slaughtering. "If proper distribution is not made, ration coupons will become worthless in shortage areas," Walker said.

SAFETY TOES ARE POPULAR ON ALL SHOES

First, the various types of war jobs that demand plenty of walking and standing and now, the new shoe rationing order—have combined to make the men and women of America conscious of their feet as never before! Not only are fit and comfortable gaining in importance under the three-pairs-of-shoes-per-year plan, but something new has been added—the safety angle!

War Jobs Call for Safety
Factory and farm jobs of all kinds call for foot safety. Men who are doing heavy lifting, men and women both who are handling heavy tools or implements which could cause fracture or mutilation if they were dropped on the foot, appreciate the thoughtfulness of shoe designers who have presented them with the new safety work shoes! They are learning that experienced workers have known for a long time—that the toes are more prone to injury and accident than almost any other part of the body! Figures like these from an actual shipyard's records have helped convince them.

Out of the total number of working days lost in one year through common injuries, 12 per cent were lost because of toe injuries—and a much higher percentage for all foot injuries combined.

It should be noted that over 85 per cent of the foot and toe injuries occurred where workers were not wearing safety shoes!

Manufacturers Awake
Shoe manufacturers were awake to these wartime footwear needs even before the war workers themselves, many of whom started in on war jobs wearing worn out dress shoes or some type equally unsuitable. Experience of workers with uncomfortable feet, plus the influence of war plant engineers who were interested in figuring out causes of inefficiency, contributed to the eager acceptance which the new lines of war work and safety shoes are now enjoying.

COLORFUL UMBRELLAS

April showers will bring May flowers, and also bring the chance to wear a brand new umbrella! Umbrellas are smartly accessory-conscious this spring, and though they have given a rib or two to the war effort, their spirited color is undaunted! Costume colors, plaids, checks and very new dimout white make umbrellas exciting accessories to lift your spirits on dull days.

Easter Jewelry Is Gay And Refreshing

Your spring suit lapel will wear a bit of personality for spring, in lapel gadget pins of the real conversation-piece variety! And you can be the strong personality type, too, because the variety and charm of the new lapel gadgets are practically limitless!

Plastics and wood show original design inspiration for these conversation pieces—interpreted in whimsical birds, animals and caricatures—accented and trimmed for realistic effect. There are lapel gadgets, too, in animal and dog designs just "for fun!"

"Beltline beads"—sixty inch necklaces that can be worn many different ways, are highly colorful additions to spring jewelry collections. Wooden beads and rondels are favorite mediums, with catalin also popular—and color runs riot through both types. Shells have been drafted for active duty, in tinted cluster necklaces, bracelets and earrings—cool and fragile looking for early spring wear with suits, and to wear with summer dresses later on.

Plenty Of Material For Work Clothes

Women have been more fortunate in the matter of clothes for their various tasks than women in the last war. The sack-like garments previously used have been replaced by the very finest products of American design and production genius. Manufacturers are equipped to produce just the right types of clothes that women demand. Any worry about availability of materials is not the order of the day. Uncle Sam has allowed priorities on cloth to make work clothes; he'll see to it that women are safely, comfortably, and even smartly dressed while they serve the nation at their many jobs.

WARN OF FLOODS

Harrisburg, March 18 (AP)—The Federal State Flood Forecasting service Wednesday issued a precautionary flood warning for the Towanda-Wilkes-Barre area on the North branch of the Susquehanna river.

NECKLINES GO UP

Necklines are "going up!" And we mean necklines on the newest, most fashionable blouses for spring. Watch for high bow-tied necklines on shirtwaist blouses for that

"beau-brummel" look with your tailored suit—watch for beuffled high necked blouses for Gibson Girl charm with your dressmaker suit. Real compliment-catchers, they're pretty to see as they are to wear!

SLACKS? SURE! THEY'RE SMART

More than ever before, slacks take the spotlight in sportswear for spring, and small wonder it is when they're so perfect for work, or play-time; for all around, "all-out" activity. You'll be wearing them digging in your Victory garden, cycling, shopping and hiking—and if you are wearing an acetate torch for Uncle Sam, you'll be wearing them on the job too. Indispensable when visiting soldiers, they're grand for just romping in your own back yard—and, as for those blessed "at-ense" moments at home—there's nothing so comfortable—so relaxing as slacks.

And never has there been such a selection from which to choose! For a man's job, for first-aid, air-raid warden duties, pick sturdy denims, navy jeans or plowale corduroys. They're made for action and they'll take lots of punishment. Wives will love the spick and span seersucker slacks sets for home chores. They're neat as a pin and they launder like magic too. And for slack excitement under sunny skies, you'll love smooth spun rayons that look like linen, in brilliant sun-drenched colors. You'll accept them with vivid contrasting jackets, scarves, kypsy beads and look gay as a magazine cover girl.

But wherever you are you're active as a beaver these days and you'll want plenty of those precision tailored smoothies in marvelous glen plaids, checks, (houndstooth, shepherds, tattersals) and wonderful dude stripes borrowed from the boys.

Italian troops seized Libya in 1911.

BUSY LIVING MAKES DEMAND ON WARDROBES

Busier living, and quick-change costume demands have given the spring lingerie collections full play in variety and imagination—and the new styles have lived up to the American reputation for versatility and practical inventiveness.

Whether your "daily dozen" keeps you dashing hither and yon, puts you into work clothes, or makes new demands on your wardrobe cleverness—there's a type of lingerie suitable and satisfactory, to help solve your problem efficiently and without worry.

Cotton for Freshness
Cottons are assuming a place of importance in spring lingerie showings. They wash well, wear well, and look well—all at modest cost! Cotton slips have taken on new personality, in dainty ruffled versions, lace trims and embroidered beauties. And if you prefer color, there's a range of pastels to choose from, in addition to the always refreshing spanking-white.

Cotton gowns have staged a revival of the long-sleeve era, and women who have come to know and love long sleeve "warm" nighties, can carry the long sleeve tradition into spring—with delightful long sleeve cotton lovelies that are quaint; but never, never too old-fashioned. Sheer cotton gowns are another joy for spring lingerie wardrobes—in luscious little flower prints, with fine detail and a very deceptive "fragile" look—they're not fragile, really—they wear most convincingly well!

Also among the very feminine cottons, is the new trousseau lingerie of softest creamy cotton, hand detailed, and strictly of the romance school of thought! They are particularly appealing for the bride of today, with loveliness and sentiment in every stitch.

Practical Knits
Knitted underwear has taken its place as a hard wearing, comfortable type of lingerie that fits well, launders cheerfully, and is a boon to busy lives.

Be sure to see the new knitted spun rayons—soft, lightweight, but sturdy! Some of the new panties have lace ties, in place of elastic—with a life-expectancy far beyond that of elastic, and with an equivalent lack of bulk.

For war workers, the all-in-one

Hosiery Sticks Looks For Spring

The hosiery outlook for spring is a very pleasing one—in fact, an exciting one! Weaves, textures, color are being offered in great variety—and the stocking wardrobe has become increasingly "accessory" minded.

Cotton hosiery offers a wide selection of novelties, in lace weaves, diagonal ribs, geometrics and clocks for sheers. The new cottons fit any place in your spring wardrobe; because whether dressy, tailored or hard-working, there's a cotton hose to fill the bill!

Rayons have become increasingly varied, too—in shadow rigs, tweedy mixtures, sheers and meshes that are very "new" and good looking.

Don't be satisfied with just one type of hosiery for spring—select your hose as you would your most dramatic accessory—with an eye to contour, color and originality.

CLOTHES FOR DATES

Whether your suit goes to committee or steps out for dates depends entirely on the accessories. Sweet seasoning for "dress-up" are frothy, face-framing jabots in perky organdy, lace-trimmed batiste, peek-a-boo eyelet. Crisp for work are tailored dickies or pique, shark-skin. For that "Dandy" trim look a little foulard bow tie.

and the chemise have won popularity vote—for comfort, suitability and minimum care requirements. There are pastels as well as white in spun rayons, too—and there is nothing more all-around satisfactory for active, strenuous wear-and-tear.

Lovely Lingerie

Rayon crepe and satin lingerie for spring is first and foremost—feminine! It is a joy to look at, and a spirit lifter to wear. Whatever the stern demands of the work-a-day, a quick change into this lush and lovely lingerie will "make a new woman" of you!

In ancient Egypt, slaves and the poorer people usually had no shoes.

Relief for Miseries of

HEAD COLDS

Put 3-purposc Va-tro-nol up each nostril. It (1) shrinks swollen membranes, (2) soothes irritation, and (3) helps clear cold-clogged nasal passages.

Follow complete directions in folder.

NO GINGERBREAD ON VERSATILE, USEFUL GARBS

"Wonderfully versatile and excitingly figure-flattering" best describes the dresses you'll wear right now and for spring parading.

They're simple, they're young, they're devoid of "ginger-bread"—they're dresses that will keep you looking well groomed through spring. Definitely one of the highlights is the suit dress because it's pretty and practical, because it'll make yours a versatile wardrobe.

Double-duty stars, you'll find the two-piece suit dress perfect for daytime and dates—because they can be dressed "up" or "down"—because they will take costume jewelry or lingerie accents beautifully.

There are very simple suit dresses with good lines in prints—beloved navy blue and black rayon crepe. But the most delightfully feminine dresses are those with fresh lingerie trims, marvelous for Easter Sunday and for exciting furlough dates through spring.

New in Lingerie Trims

This year the lingerie trims consist of much more than frilled collars and cuffs! Playing the largest role are the fron-frou dickies—ruffled jabots—gilets and such extra special touches as organdy bows. And what a large assortment there are of these in every fabric from striped taffetas to crisp pique! White, so flattering to the face, leads in the lingerie trim popularity.

Wide Variation In New Spring Neckwear

An exciting collection of new spring neckwear practically amounts to an exciting new spring wardrobe! Dickies, collars, cuffs, fascinators, fichus and bows offer limitless possibilities for varying simple dress and suit costumes—with well groomed freshness assured, and quick-change just a matter of minutes!

Collars, many with matching cuffs, are abundant in crisp white tailored versions that will pick up the very best points of any tailored suit—particularly navy. Frilly collars, and cuffs, run the gamut of ity—but there are soft pastels too—all very feminine and full of spring charm.

Of course, there are tailored dickies and collars too—which are more suitable for office work—daily duties. But no matter what you are looking for you'll be able to find it, we're sure. And don't forget—in almost all cases these lingerie trimmings are detachable—so you can have several different ones to suit all of your moods!

pastels for flattery—with plenty of hard-to-beat white as well. There are sheers, lace, lingerie cottons, embroidery ready to make a costume out of a simple dress. Don't feel anchored to one neckline, either! If your V-neck dress has its share of revers collars, try a square bib collar, or a paston collar and achieve a completely new effect, presto! Wartime wardrobes will welcome a battery of neckwear changes, to keep fresh looking and chic at a very modest cost!

Whatever your wardrobe, there is neckwear to make it stretch—and that is something to be glad about this wartime spring!

TWO-PART BRASSIERES

Two-part brassieres, consisting of two distinct sections, are an innovation in brassiere design, styled for wear with plunging front necklines and décolletage backs. The resultant freedom with support makes the two-part brassiere ideal for sports or work wear; as well as for dress wear!
